Craig,

To the greatest boyfriend a girl could ever have. You're kind, handsome, intelligent, well known, and you have a super personality to top it all off. These are some of the few characteristics which crossed my mind. I couldn't list them all because there is not enough room. Anyway, you mean so very much to me, more than you could possibly know. I always feel happy when I'm with you and I even look forward to school, but only so I can see you.

I've known you for a very, very long time and I feel lucky to have had someone like you in my life. We have a great relationship and I hope that we can make it last. You're the perfect person that any smart girl would love to spend her future with. You have a lot going for you and I know you'll do great in making all your future plans come true. No matter what happens, I know I'll never forget you. (Maybe nothing will ever happen, who knows?)

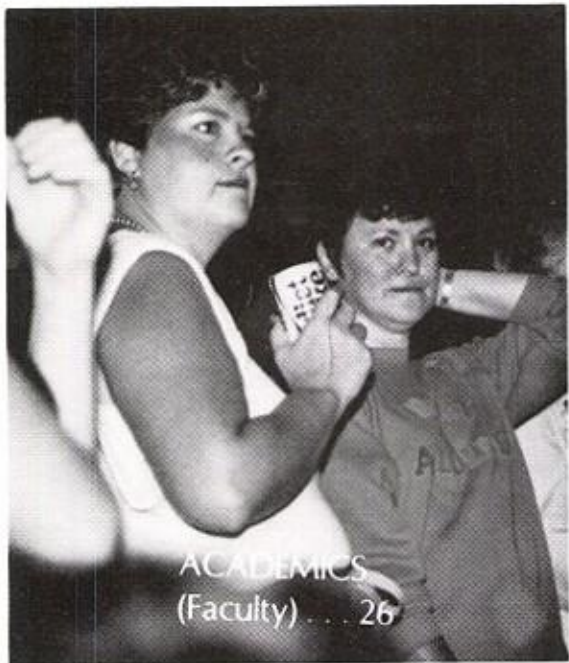

You're a super football player so don't think anything different. I hope you get everything you want out of life and more.

Love You Lots

ith each season, the Nimitz Cougars strive for pride, spirit, and excellence. It is with this in mind that we search for the truth among our fellow man and unity within our school. These contributors complement our success in all aspects of life as we venture towards our goals.

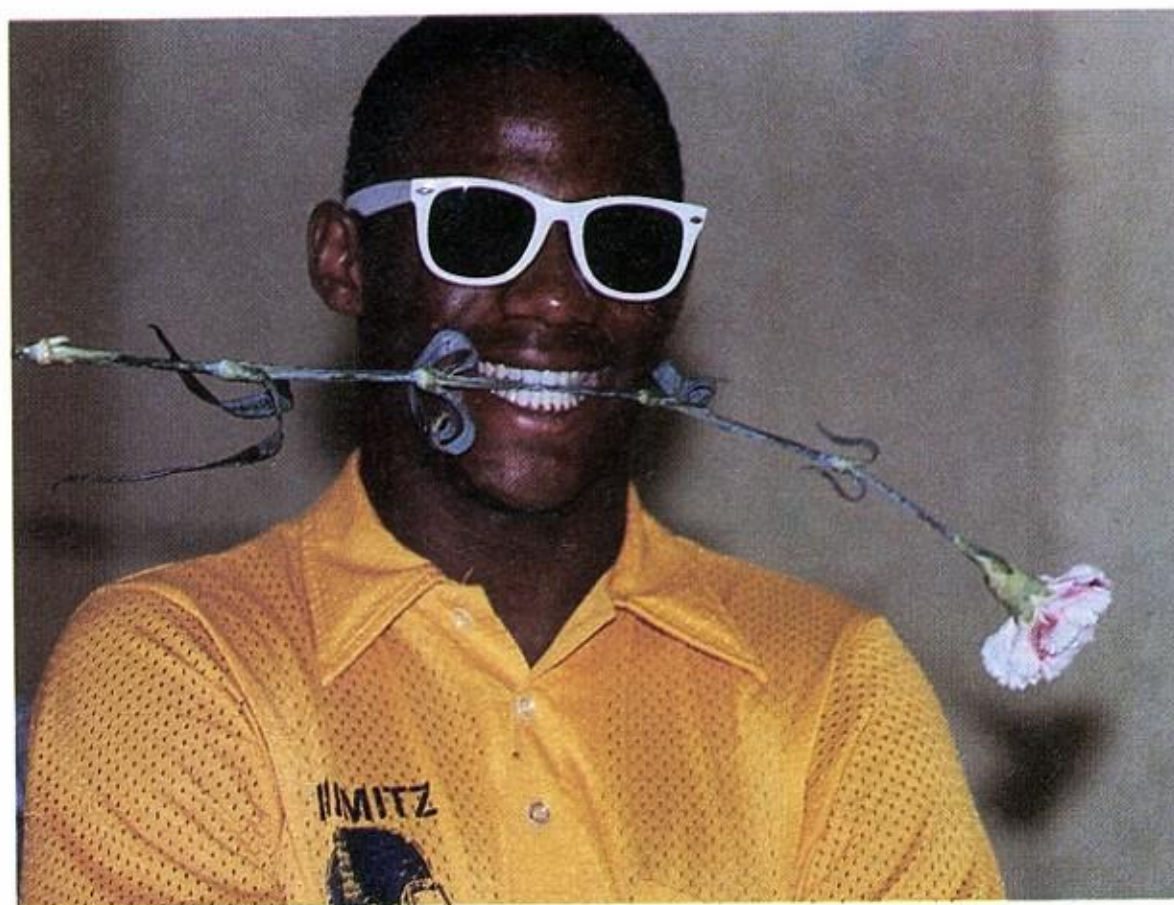

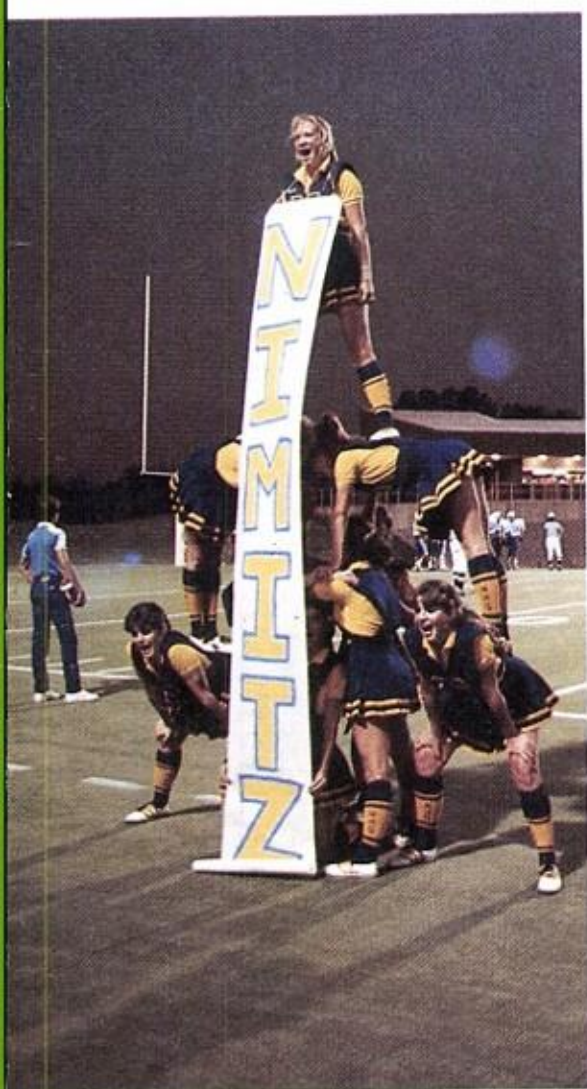

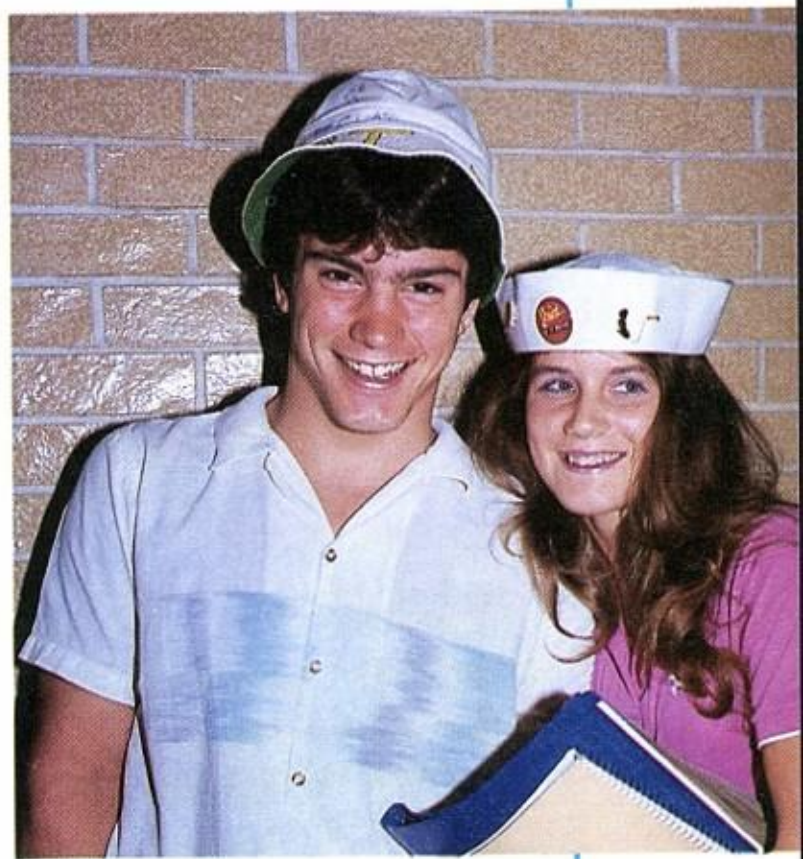

The Cougars constantly stalk their disbelievers. Competitors who doubt their courage come to look at the Cougars with renewed respect after experiencing their strength. Our football team displayed this strength and experienced the thrill of victory by playing its most outstanding season. A growing competitive spirit prevails in all of our sports and academic teams.

New students sense the spirit of this outstanding Cougar Pride and immediately unite to add fuel to the fire. This spirit is constantly growing and our legacy is our pride that we have successfully handed to others what was so carefully handed to us and will be given future generations — The Cougar Tradition. With this established display of Nimitz Pride — The Coogs are on the Prowl!

Spirit Spreads Quickly Throughout the School

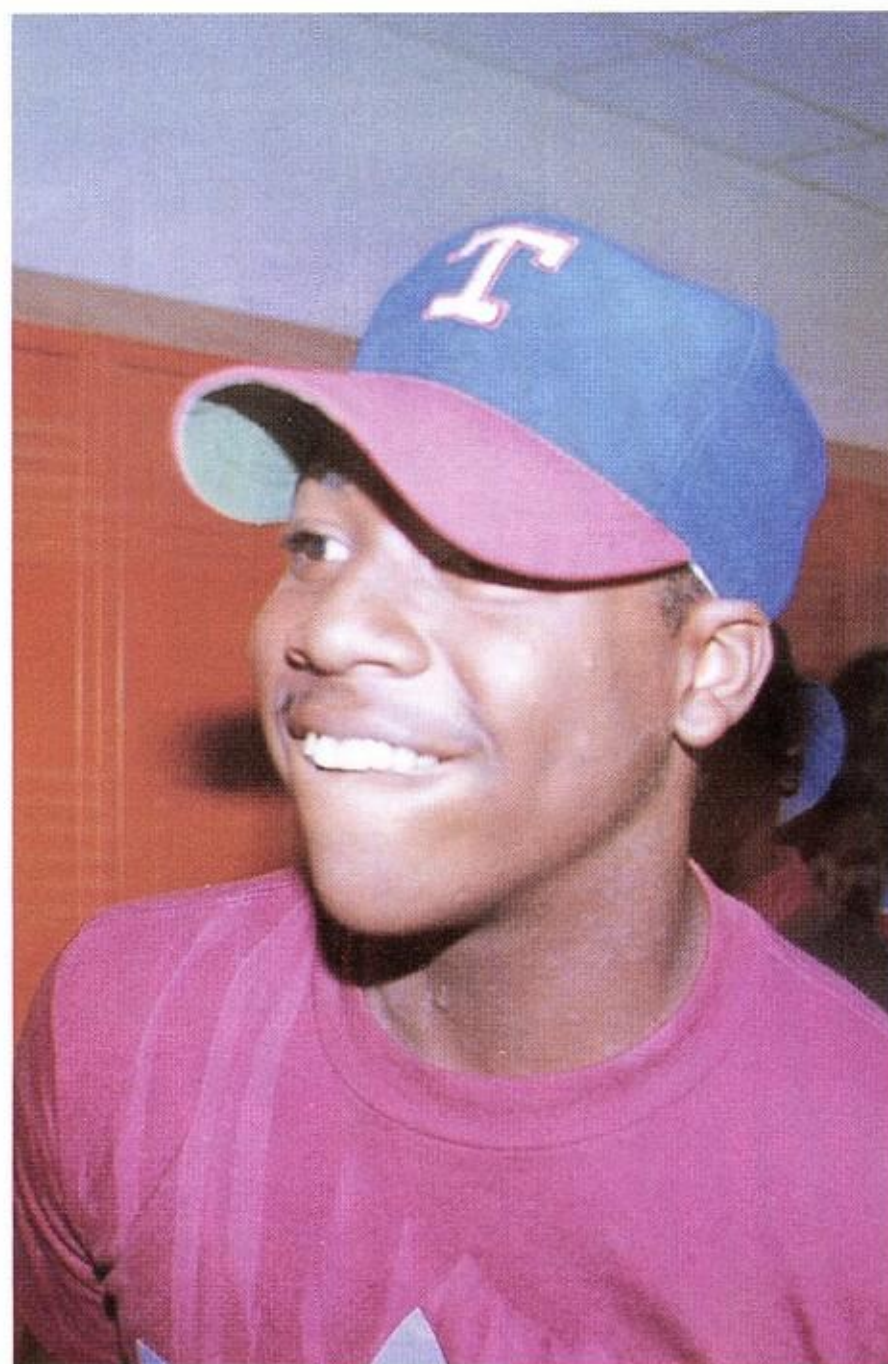

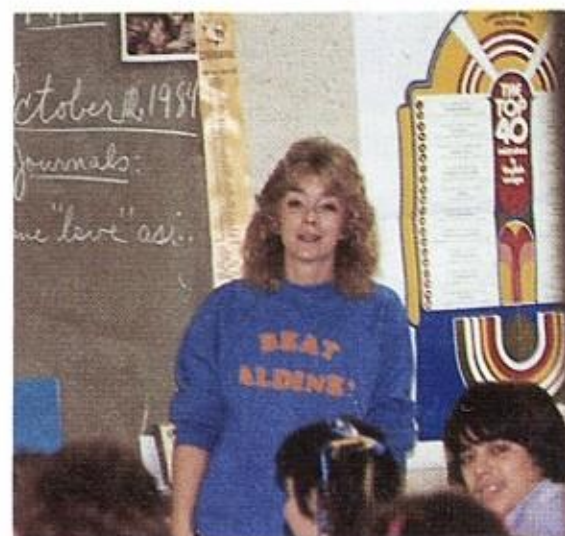

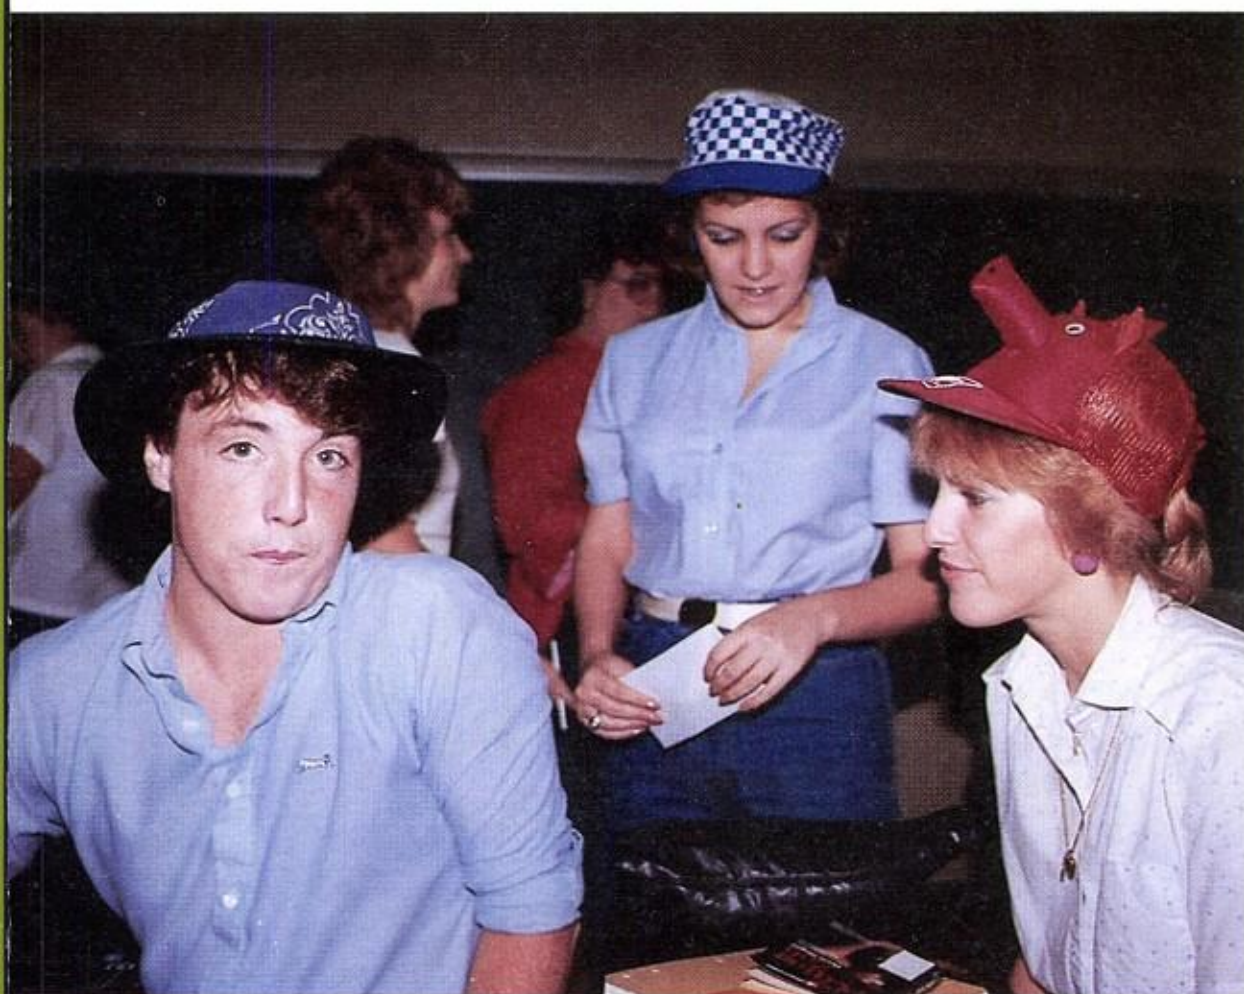

he 1984 Spirit Week was full of enthusiasm and a new building towards school pride. This week, prior to the annual Homecoming game, was designed to promote school spirit and support of the football team. Each day, as always, was assigned a different theme and students and teachers alike were encouraged to participate.

The week started out with everyone showing their spirit on their feet by wearing the craziest socks they had. This "foot action" had all students in their best. The following day, Nimitz students "capped on Aldine." Students came to school in the most outlandish headgear they owned. Midweek found the Cougars sporting the most unusual glasses. People everywhere were "shading the Mustangs."

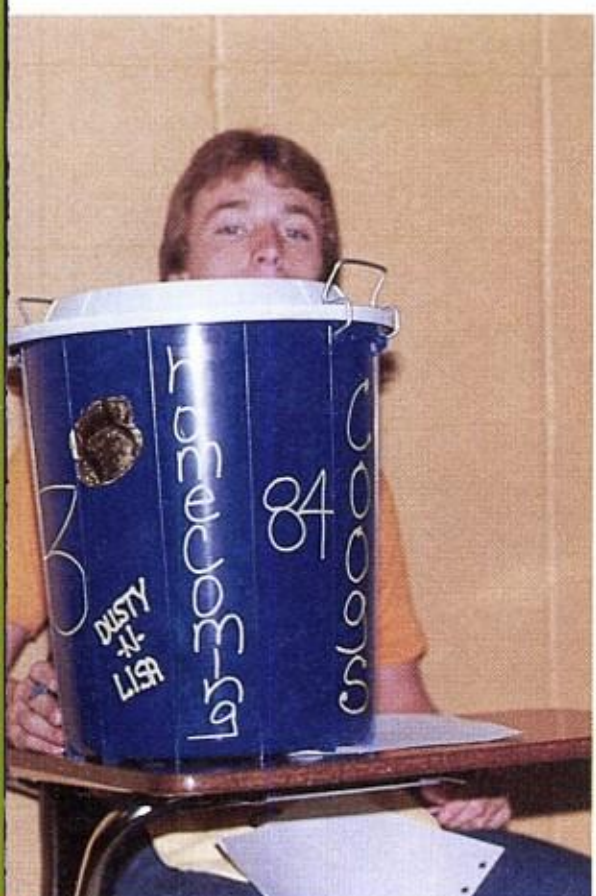

Finally, the long awaited Blue and Gold day arrived. Decked out in school colors, students displayed their spirit and pride. Senior students surprised all by coming to school in blue and gold "Beat Aldine" shirts. The week closed with spirit overflowing into the evening's fan filled game against Aldine.

Hungry Cougar, Dusty Mullins needs a little extra nourishment for the Homecoming Game. 6. Many spirited Cougars were caught up by the homecoming fervor.

Building Toward an Exciting Finish

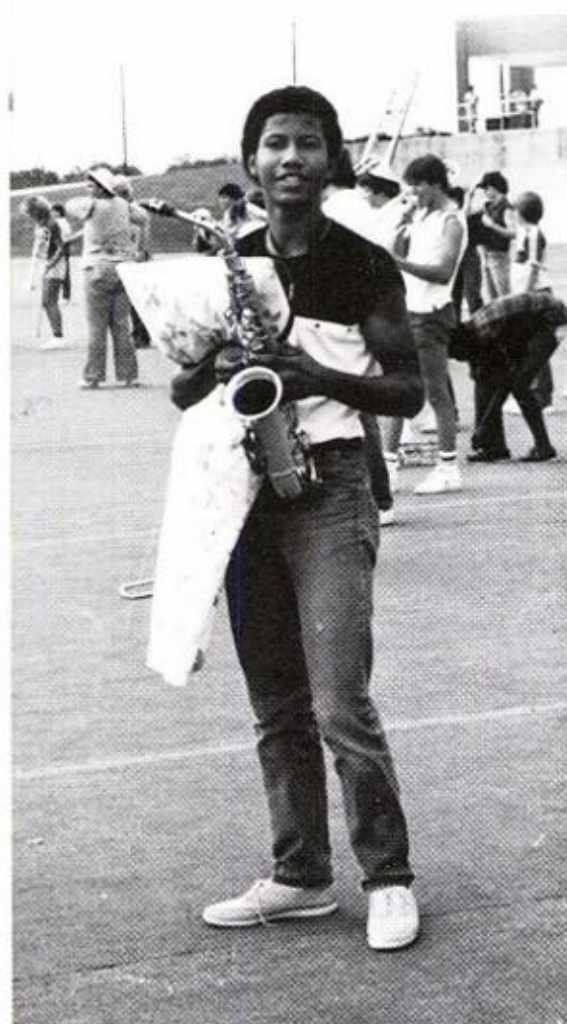

Many people put in much effort in preparation for a "Moonlight Mirage." Labor contributions toward the festive event were made by the Senior class. The Varsity football team, Starboard Angels, Roaring Cougar Band, Cheerleaders, and the members elected for the queen's court all put in many hours of hard work and effort to prepare for the big event.

Carnations were sold by the Senior Class all week and given out Homecoming Day. Mums were ordered and many young ladies carried them around during the day in anticipation of a special evening.

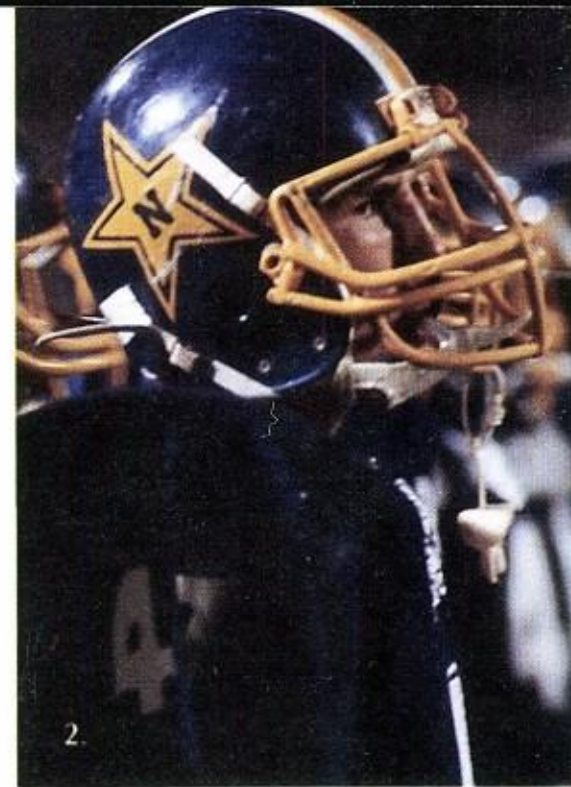

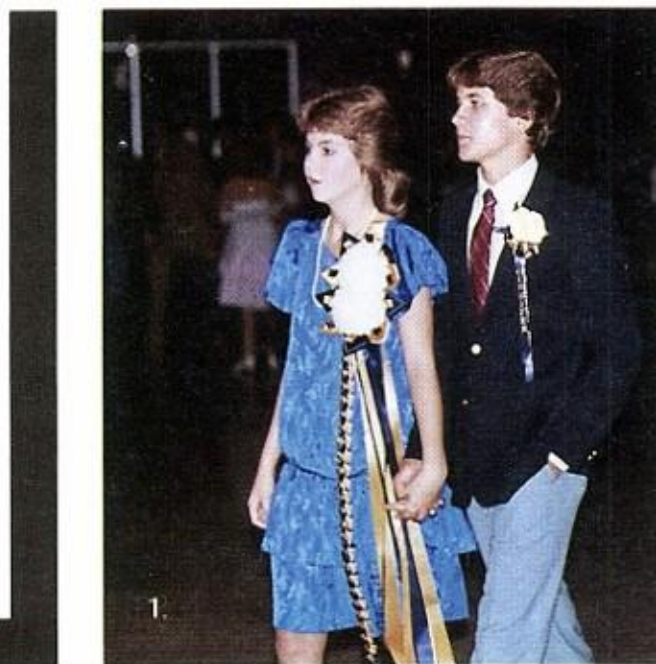

1. The Spirit Club's contribution to the "Beat Aldine" homecoming theme was to decorate cars with slogans and streamers for the evening's game. 2. "Easy" Randy Street, from 93Q FM visited the homecoming pep rally to add more enthusiasm to an already spirited student body. He presented NHS with the 93Q FM Spirit Award for the week of Oct. 12. 3. Cheerleader Susan Trobaugh shades the Mustangs.

1. Teachers get into Cougar spirit. 2. This is one of the many mums received for Homecoming. 3. Band, cheerleaders, and drill prepare for the night ahead of them. 4. Derrick Benn rests with his trusty pillow, during rehearsal. 5. Teresa Estes and Terri Bailey take a rest from the busy day.

1. Jennifer Collins and Kevin Pinkley enjoy the dance. 2. Steve Yager looks on as Cougars' struggle for only the hope of victory being shattered. 3. Sophomore Princess Patty Waldrep. 4. Junior Princess Jennifer Davis.

"Moonlight Mirage" set the mood for the 1984 Homecoming game and dance. Everybody had begun preparing for the big event all week.

The day started out with a loud and spirited pep rally joined by 93 FM. The station presented our school with a trophy for being their team of the week. Throughout the day, the Cougar Spirit was building up in everyone for the game that night.

Even though the game was a close loss, the varsity team played well. For halftime entertainment, the fans were treated to a dance by the Starboard Angels and precision marching by the Roaring Cougar Band.

After the outstanding performances, the time had come to find out who had been crowned Homecoming Queen. Suspense mounted as each class princess was presented to the enthusiastic crowd. Leading the Homecoming court was Denise Tabola as Freshman Princess, Patty Waldrep as Sophomore Princess, and the Junior Princess was Jennifer Davis. Michelle Whitehorn was named the 1984 Homecoming Queen.

The game was followed by a successful dance. The dance was attended by students old and new. At 1 AM the dance had ended and many memories will be remembered in the years to come.

Everyday Life

fter the screeching brakes bring the long lean yellow machine to a halt, Nimitz students begin filing off their buses with constant chatter of the past evening events. Their conversation includes the phone call they received from that special someone they have been expecting to hear from, homework they failed to complete, the test later in the day they are worried about and other topics that young adults find special interest in discussing.

Slowly they saunter into the cafeteria, down the 100 hall toward the Commons area to meet and greet friends with a hello. While waiting for the 7:45 bell to move them to their first class where they will begin learning the day's prepared lessons, students continue their visit with friends and fill them in on the current condition of their life.

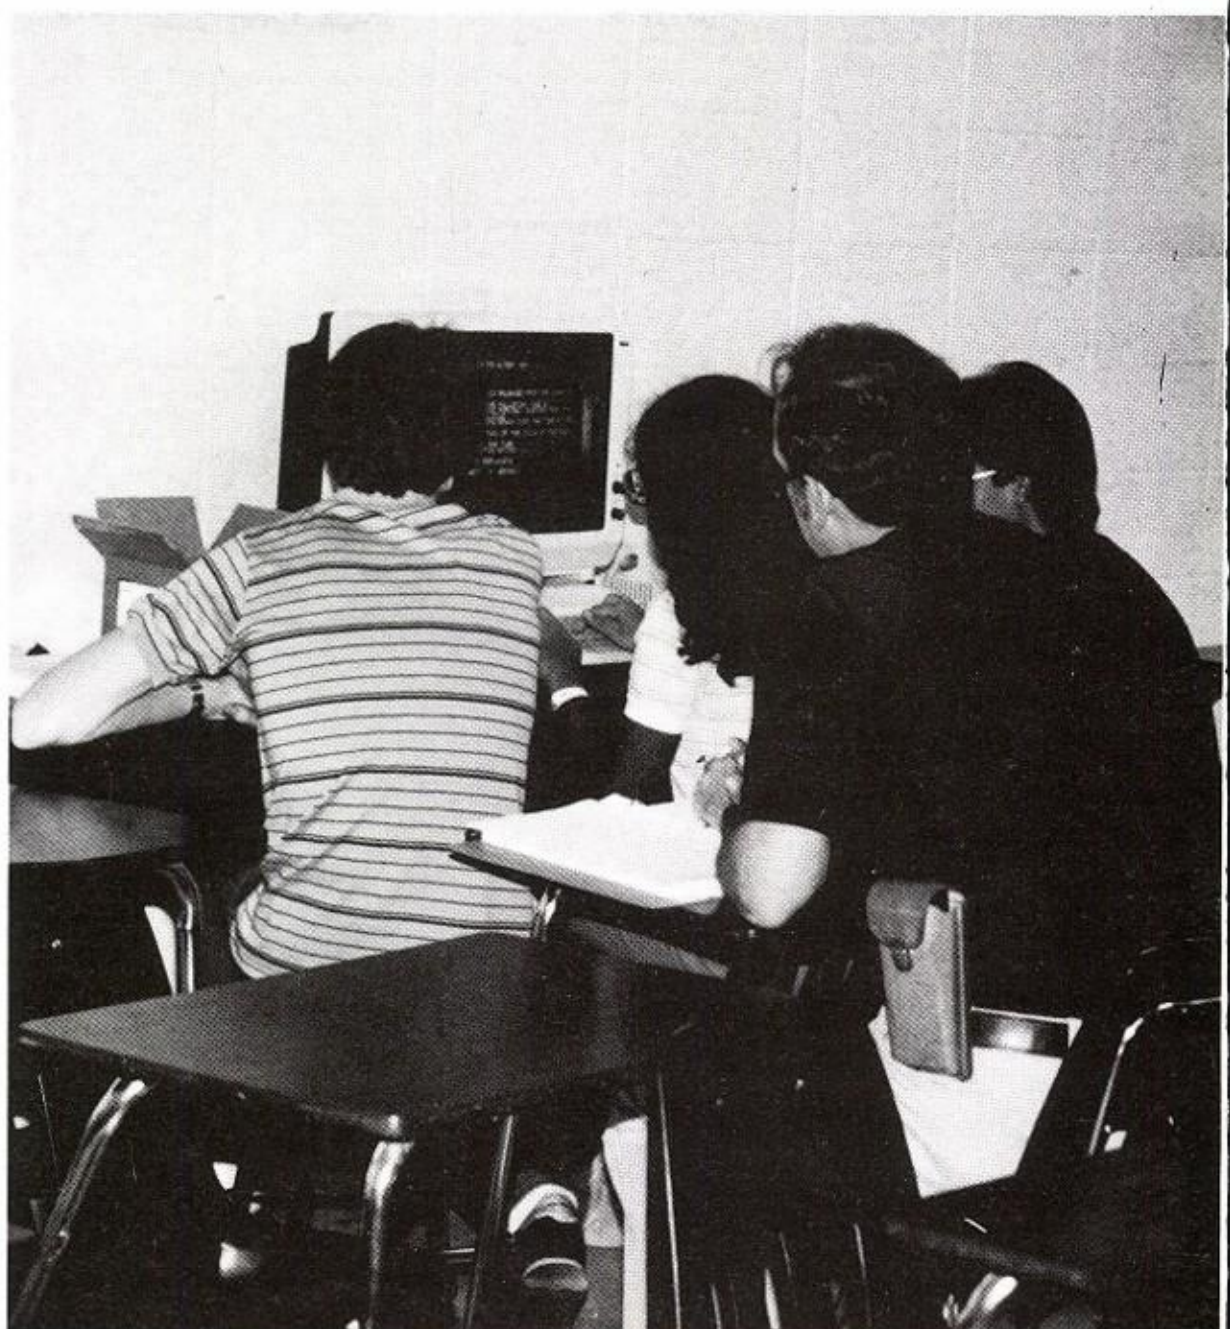

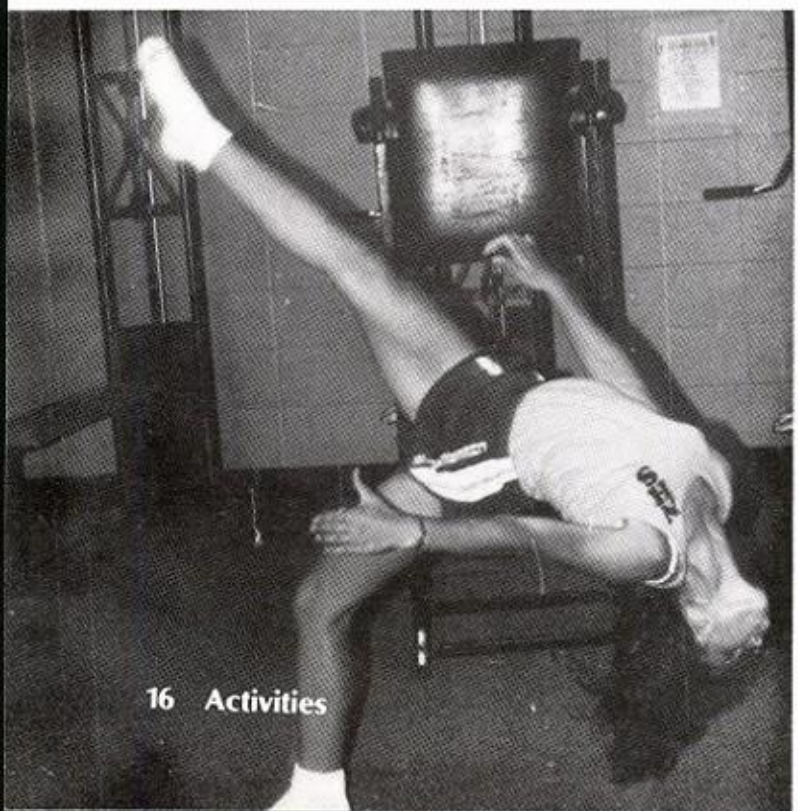

Then that unfaltering sound explodes and fills the building that directs students to their first period class. As they meander down the long corridors that familiar noise continues, feet shuffling, people talking, lockers slamming — HUM! it's 8:00 — time to begin learning about how to write a composition, time to study the days of the Old West, time to dissect that frog so anxiously dreaded, time to get the body in shape.

As they progress and students continue their daily ritual of changing classes and talking about things they have learned in class, rumbling sounds of hunger flow in the stomachs of learners. It can only be time to nourish the body and take a break from the nurturing of the mind. When lunch comes to an end, students again start their routine and await that dependable tone that brings their day to an end — the 3:15 dismissal that will again put them on that bus for a long ride home.

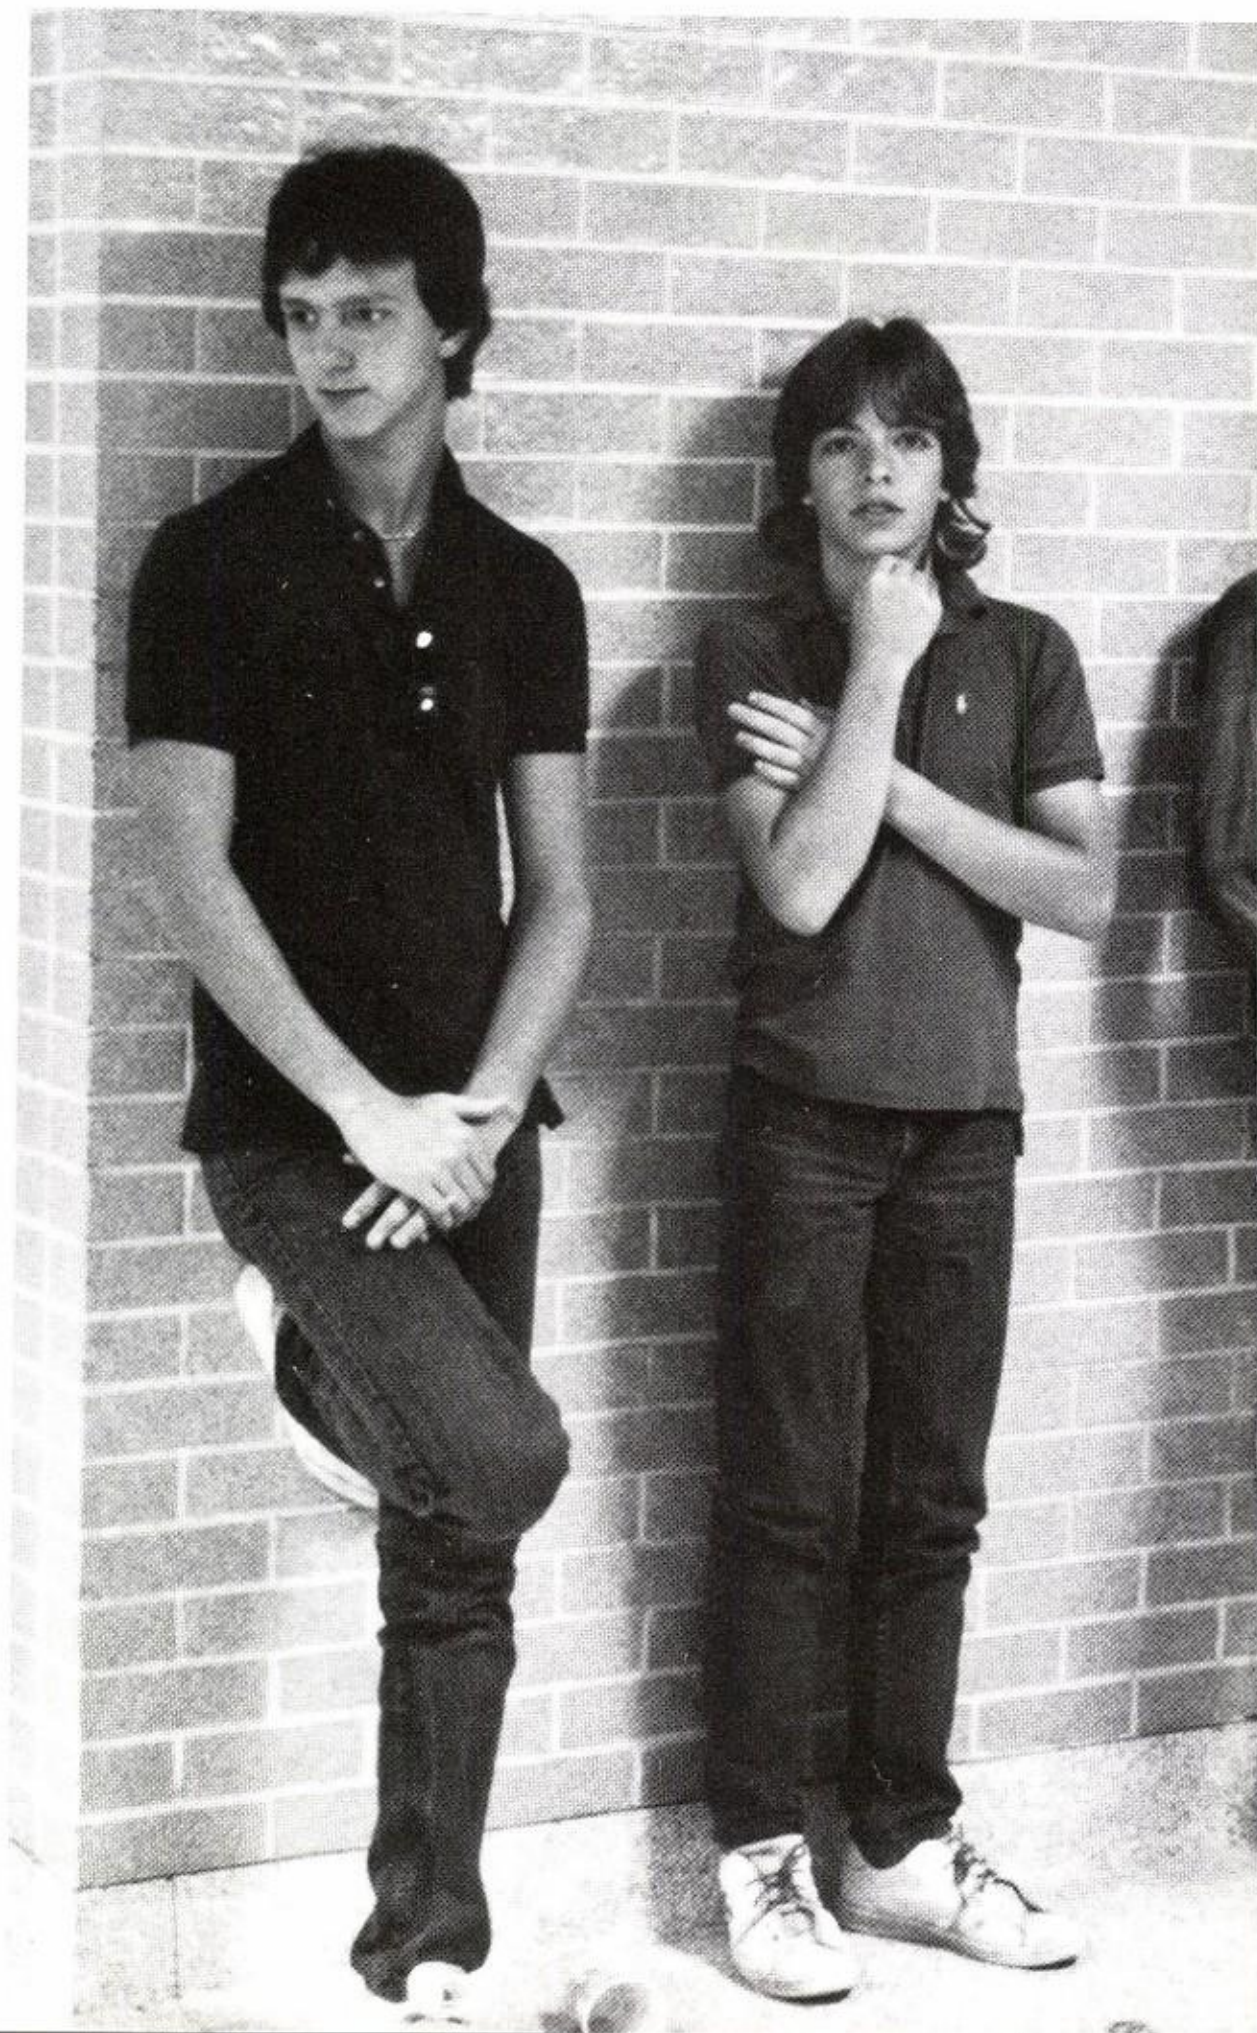

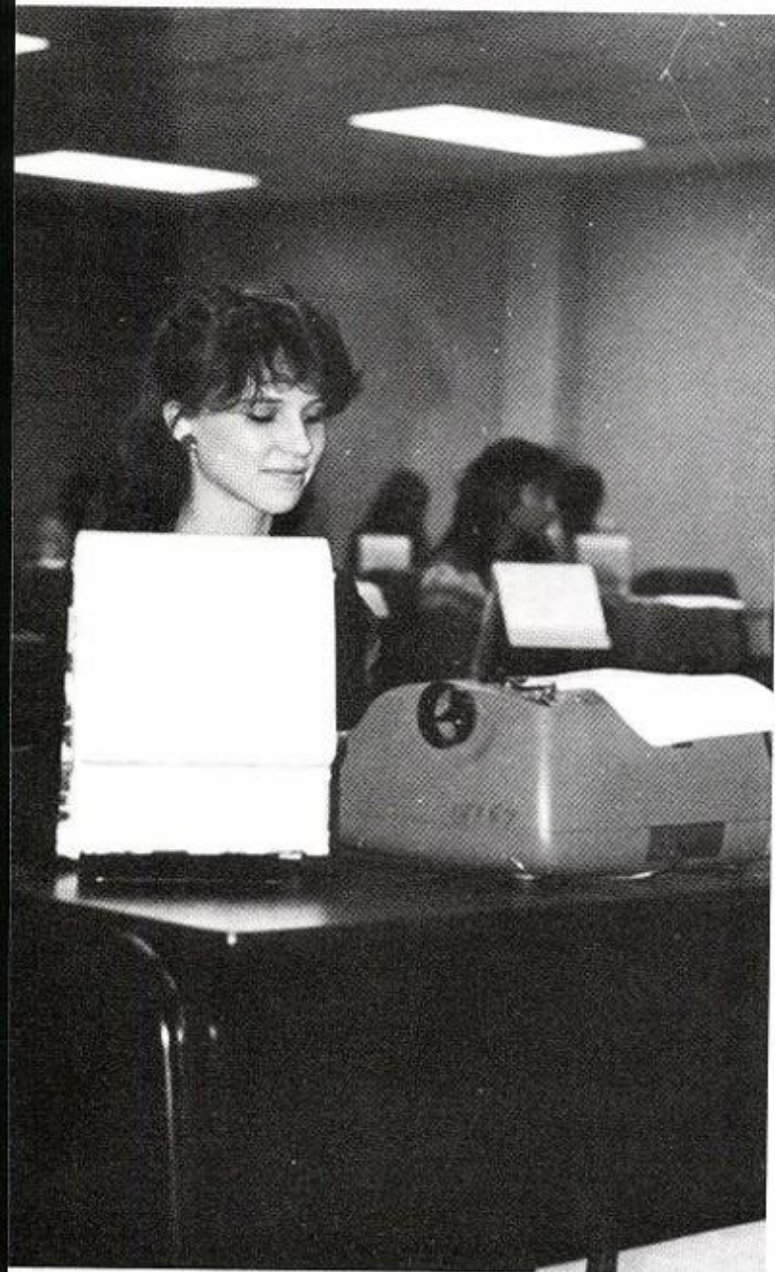

But wait!, it's not over — for some people anyway. For some Nimitz students, the day is all but over — there's practice — football, drill, band, cheerleader — time to put in those extra hours that bring them fulfillment and satisfaction. When all extra time has been completed, these special students return home to complete homework assignments they feared all day, assignments they expect to keep them up until midnight to finish.

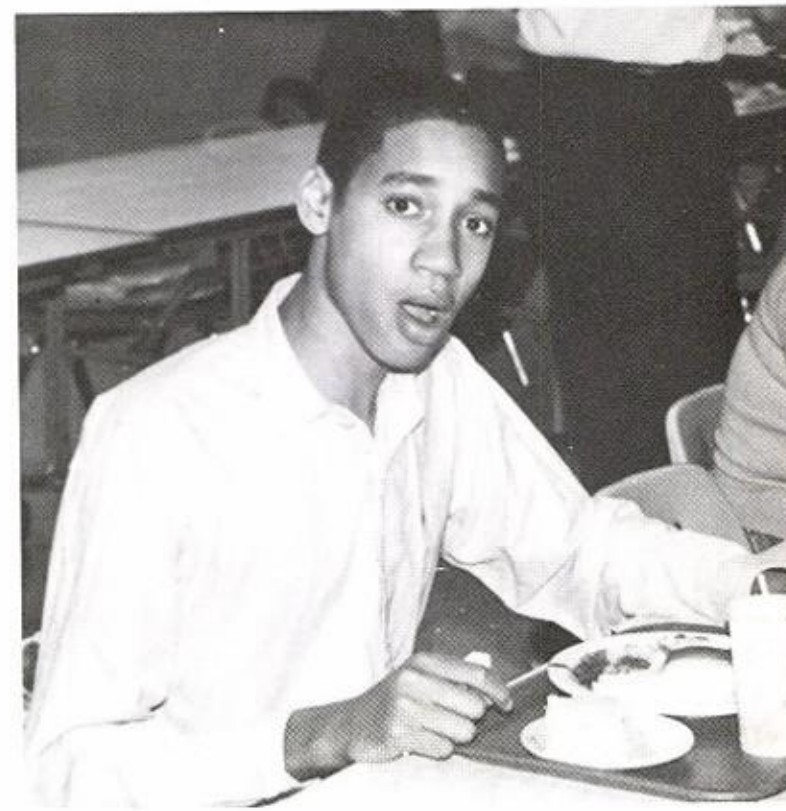

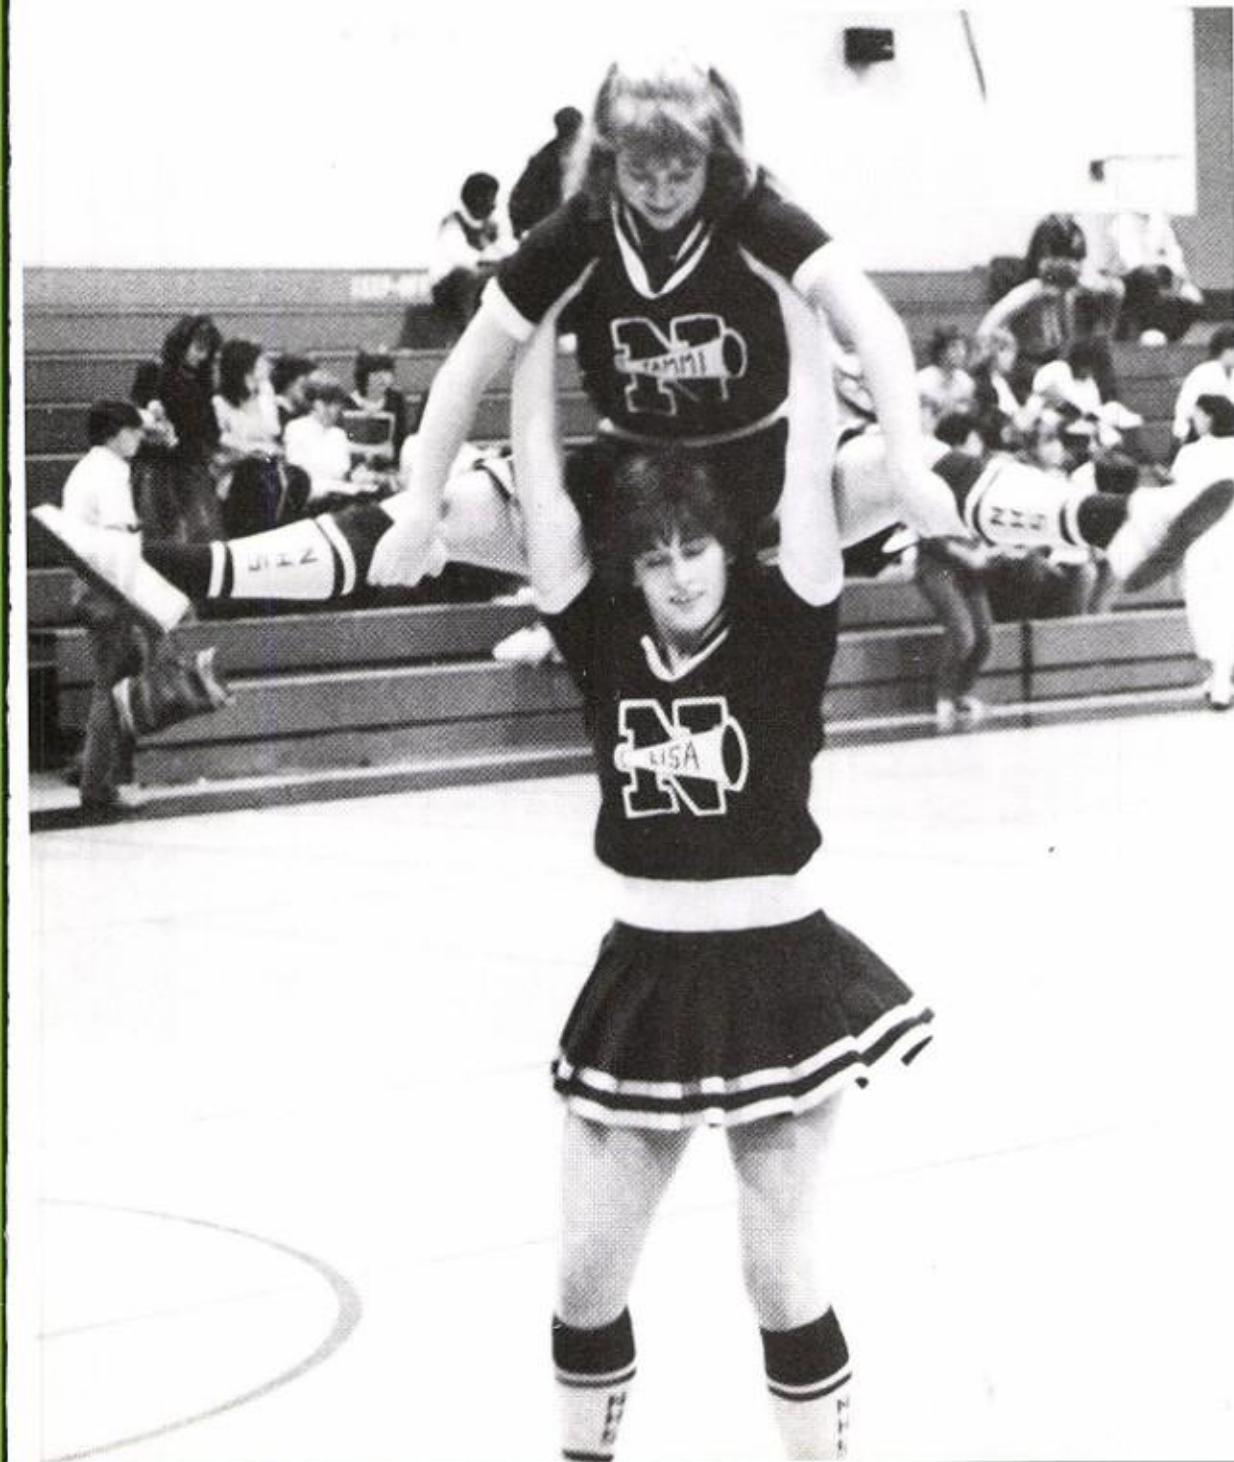

After the screeching brakes bring the long lean bus ... time for another day at NHS.

Autumn

As the 1984 summer came to a close, the Nimitz student body returned to the classrooms to prepare for the year ahead.

Autumn brought different and exciting events to Nimitz. The most memorable happening was the football team's outstanding year with a record of 7 wins and 3 losses. Another special occurrence was the ordering of the Juniors' class rings. The National Honor Society also inducted their largest membership in its history.

Ronald Reagan was a popular name at Nimitz. The American election allowed him to keep his furniture in the White House for another four years. This presidential election will be remembered because of Walter Mondale's running mate, Geraldine Ferraro, the first female running mate for major political party.

The land breaking for the new Hardy Toll Road was attended by the Roaring Cougar Band.

Winter

Snow, Christmas vacation, finals, and TABS testing all took major roles during the Cougars' busy winter.

The snow in January added extra excitement to a few normal school days. Outside the Cougars had snowball fights and some even took the day off to enjoy it more.

Some cool winter evenings were spent in the Cougar gym watching the basketball teams fight for victories. The fans really got into the games against team rivalries such as Aldine and MacArthur.

The production of "All the Way Home" by Ted Mosel was a huge success when staged by the drama department in January.

The cheerleaders also contributed their part of the fun when they sold computer print outs of the top ten guys or girls for each Cougar student.

Spring

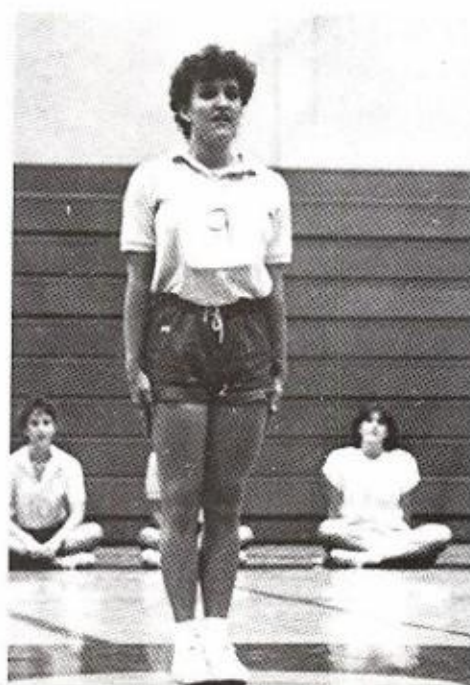

The Cougars' spring semester began with many exciting events. Seniors gathered in the library to find their class rank. The valedictorian, Arthur Lihm and the salutatorian, Sandra Hlesser were named.

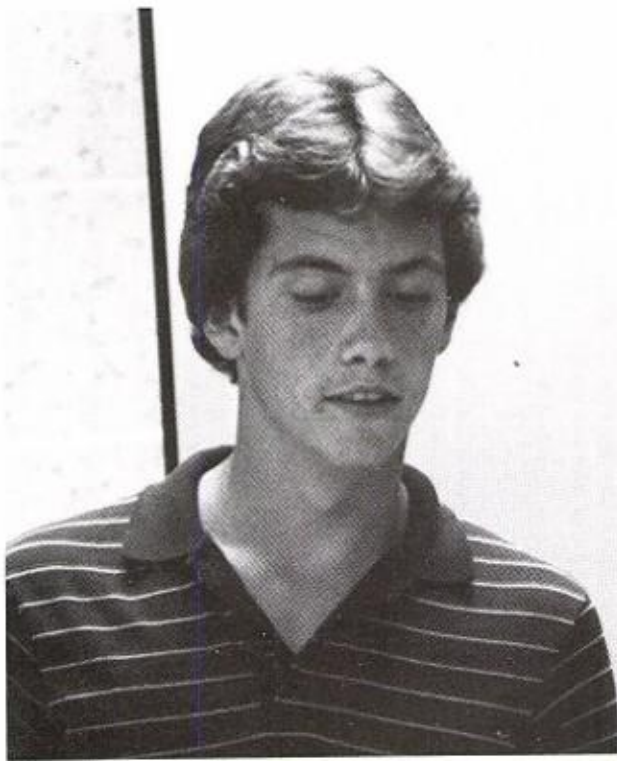

In April, the coronation skyrocketed with success. The theme Over the Rainbow set the mood for the exciting evening. At the end of the ceremony, Derek Drawhorn and Denise Havard were named Mr. and Miss Nimitz.

The Senior Prom was the best one in years. At the Hotel Wyndham it was a perfect evening for limousines, long-dresses, and tuxedos. The Prom King and Queen were Frank Martinucci and Cheryl Leach.

The two seniors chosen for the Jones Scholarship Awards were Sandra Hlesser and Belinda Perales. These academic scholarships will carry them to any college of their preference.

Another exciting day included the cheerleader tryouts. Eighteen girls did their routines in front of the student body. They were narrowed down to twelve girls which made up the 1986 cheerleading squad.

Traditions Are Meant to be Broken

The atmosphere at Nimitz on November 9, 1984 was electric. As the day progressed, the thoughts of the football game to be played that night at Thorne Stadium intensified the student body. It was the last district football game of the season. With a victory over the Eisenhower Eagles, the Coogs had an outside chance of preying on the doors of the Astrodome. The only obstacle that stood in their way was out of the Cougars' control. One hurdle had already been leaped — Aldine had defeated MacArthur the night before. Now, time and points would determine the Cougars' hungry appetite for "new territory to conquer."

As the students began arriving at Thorne and the band and drill team unloaded their buses, the players were already down on the field preparing for the upcoming event. Anticipation built with the pre-game activities — the marching in of the band and drill team, the introduction of the mascots and cheerleaders, the Star Spangled Banner, and more. All of these added to the enthusiasm of the fans. The Coogs were psyched. They were ready to go.

From the opening kick-off to the final tick of the clock, the mighty Cougars controlled the game. Tension was absolute throughout the game. Bad weather did not keep Nimitz fans away from this all-important game. The Eisenhower Eagles were not a match for the fired up Coogs; Nimitz won by an overwhelming score of 20-7. Many exciting plays contributed to the 20-7 victory, but the most rewarding was Scooter Meniffee breaking the 1000 yard rushing mark.

Now with the Cougar victory, all that was needed was a Smiley Eagle win. Rumors filled the stands with the outcome of that game which everyone was anxiously awaiting the results. The dream was the Dome, but the reality of this season was for the Cougars to stay home. The call came just as the Coogs' game ended — Forest Brook had squeaked by Smiley with a score of 2-0. This win gave Forest Brook the opportunity to accompany Aldine to the

No one said anything when Coach Jim Linnstaedter gave the results. Many of the Seniors shed silent tears at the realization that they had just played their last game. The underclassmen left the field with a new determination towards next year's season.

Coach Jim Linnstaedter said, "Nimitz will always be a problem to other teams."

Even though the mighty Cougars fell short of their goal, they finished their season in a blaze of blue and gold, making history with their fantastic 7-3 season. The Coogs stood tall over MacArthur, Smiley, and Eisenhower during their district play.

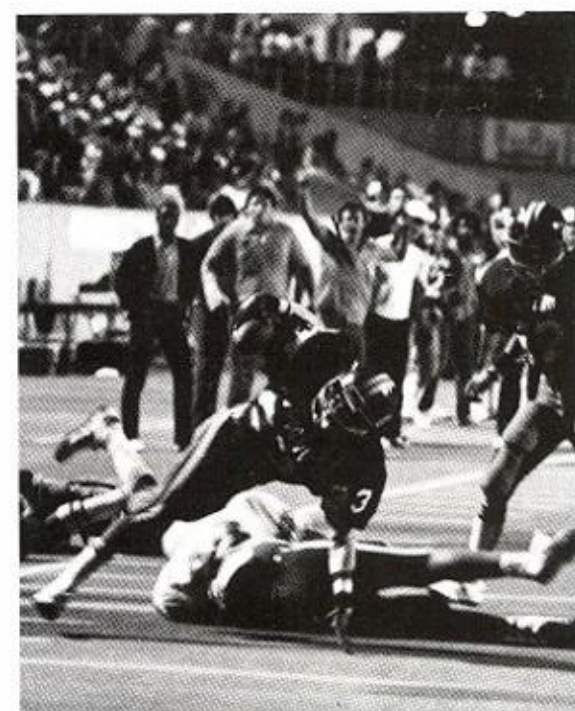

A record twelve players were selected as members of the All-District Team. Included are Dusty Mullins, Wilbert Lincoln, Joe Phillips — first team defense; Doug Stokley — second team defense; Paul Cork, Mike Morris, Dave Carr — first team offense; Keith Davis, Scooter Meniffee, Steve Waldrop — second team offense; Jamie Simmons, Craig Smith — special teams. All Greater Houston Team members are Mike Morris, Jamie Simmons — first team; Scooter Meniffee, Dusty Mullins — Honorable Mention. Jamie Simmons was also selected to the first team All-State. David Carr was selected to the second team All-American. The coaching staff selected the following players to receive the school awards — Mike Morris, MVP; Keith Davis — offensive player of the year; Wilbert Lincoln — defensive player of the year; Steve Waldrop, David Carr — outstanding linemen; Ronald Jackson — Cougar Heart Award.

The overall season was the best in Nimitz's history — the crowd was tremendous, and the Cougar team played well. Their toughest competition was Cy-Creek, Aldine, and Forest Brook. Loyalty, determination, and pride kept the Coogs mighty and fighting during the entire season.

"The coaching staff wants to thank everyone for the support this year," said Coach Jim Linnstaedter. "It was the best year in football. District 21-5A — look out for Nimitz next year!!"

Teamwork Pays Off

Finishing the season with a 7-2 record, the Junior Varsity team played much better than the coaches originally expected. With the majority of the players being sophomores, the J.V. team played it's most outstanding season. Overall, the teamwork of this young team paid off.

The J.V. team, composed of only seven juniors, many sophomores, and two freshmen, played and contributed to the season all year long, never giving up on any game. Coach Gary Dworaczyk said, "They could have played better at times, but considering the team was young ... they were an outstanding team."

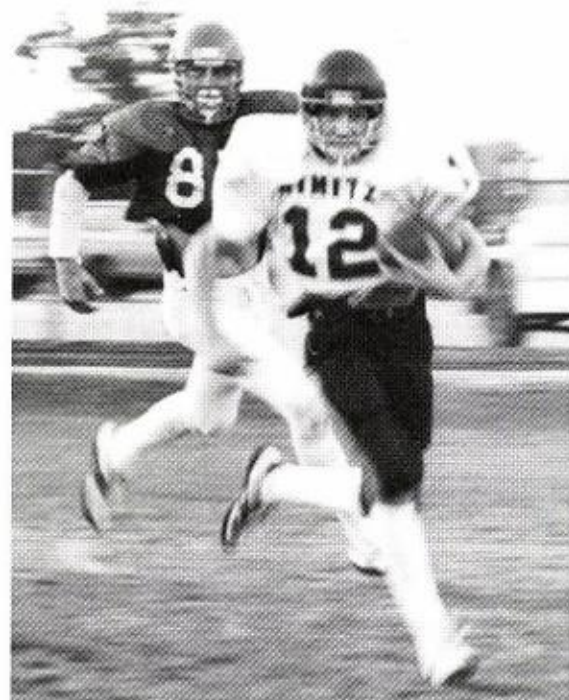

The J.V. team encountered some tough opponents this year, but they held their own in all but two games. They experienced a turning point in the season after the Reagan and Scarborough games. "The team realized they could score plenty of points and play good defense." This gave these young men an added boost in their remaining games.

The coaches outlook for next year — "Next year, the J.V. will again be young, composed of mostly sophomores. How hard they work during the off season will determine their outcome."

Sophomores Show Spirit

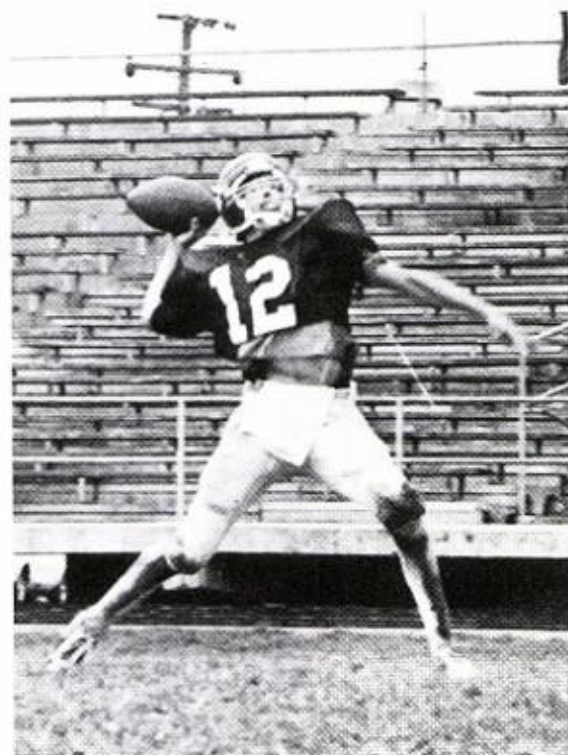

Playing football is tough, especially with a young team. The Sophomore football team got off to a rough start with a lack of players. They did not, however, ever give up. Pride and determination kept the Sophomore Cougars working hard during their winless year.

The Sophomores fought with unbounding resolution, playing their best game against the Smiley Eagles. The Coogs held the Eagles scoreless the first three quarters, falling behind at the very end.

Coach Wade felt the team effort was set on improving skills and working together. M.V.P. Ronny Keener aided the Sophomores' offensive line, dedicating himself every game.

Having What It Takes

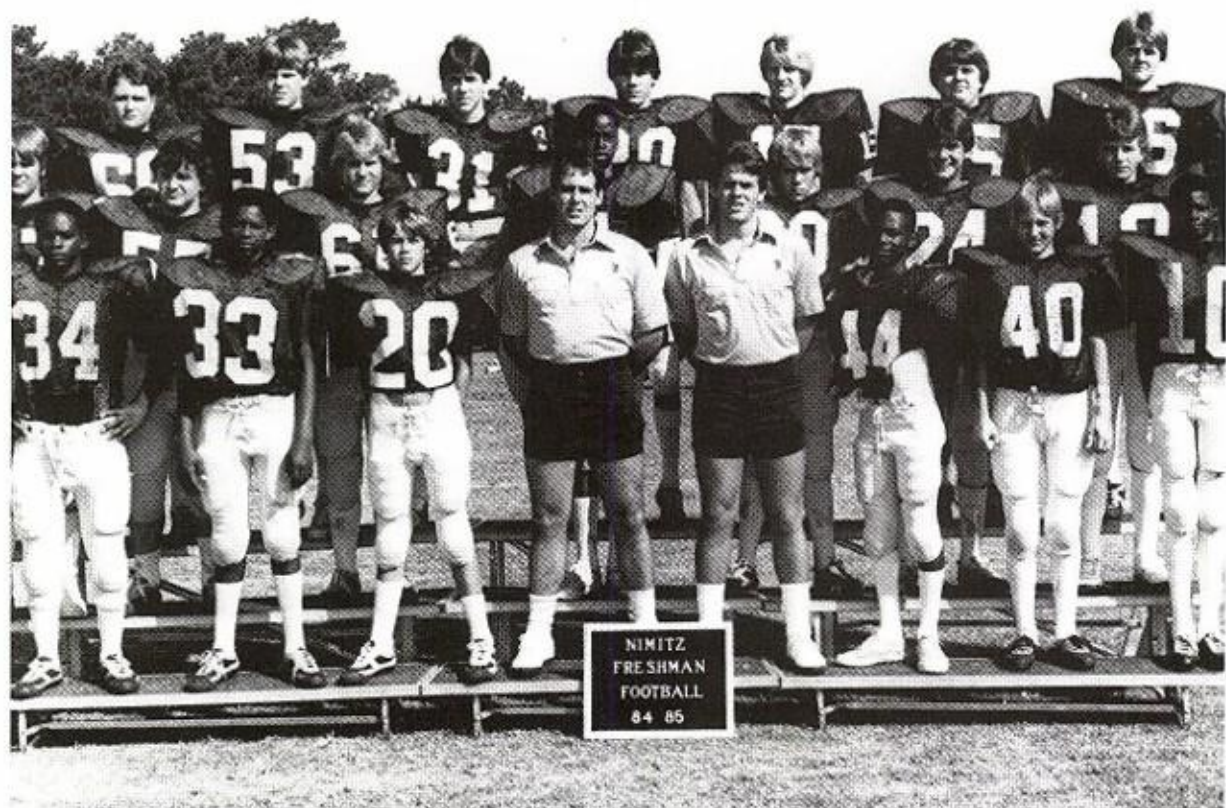

Setting and obtaining goals is one of life's most important facets. This year's Freshman football team not only obtained a goal they set for themselves, but they also set a new Nimitz record, being the only freshman team to beat Aldine's freshman. "Beating Aldine was the high point of the season," Coach Gray said.

The Freshman team worked very hard this season, showing much potential. Coach Gray believes, "With time . . . these young men will begin to work together as a team and begin to pull for each other. I think they will begin to take more pride in themselves and in the job they are doing. This team will have to carry on the tradition that this year's varsity has started."

The outstanding players for the "A" and "B" squads were Terrence Tennard and Stanley Johnson. The coaching staff is optimistic for next year. "The potential is there if they just work hard to achieve excellence."

This year's Nimitz Girls Volleyball team faced much tough competition during their season. But determination by the girls and Nimitz loyalty kept the volleyball team playing tough throughout the season.

During the game, the team did very well on the offense. "The offense was good," said Coach Sharon McCain. Defensive teamwork could have been stronger but the team pulled through in the end.

By taking each team one game at a time, the girls were able to overcome tough teams in the district. Eisenhower gave the volleyball team their best game for the season.

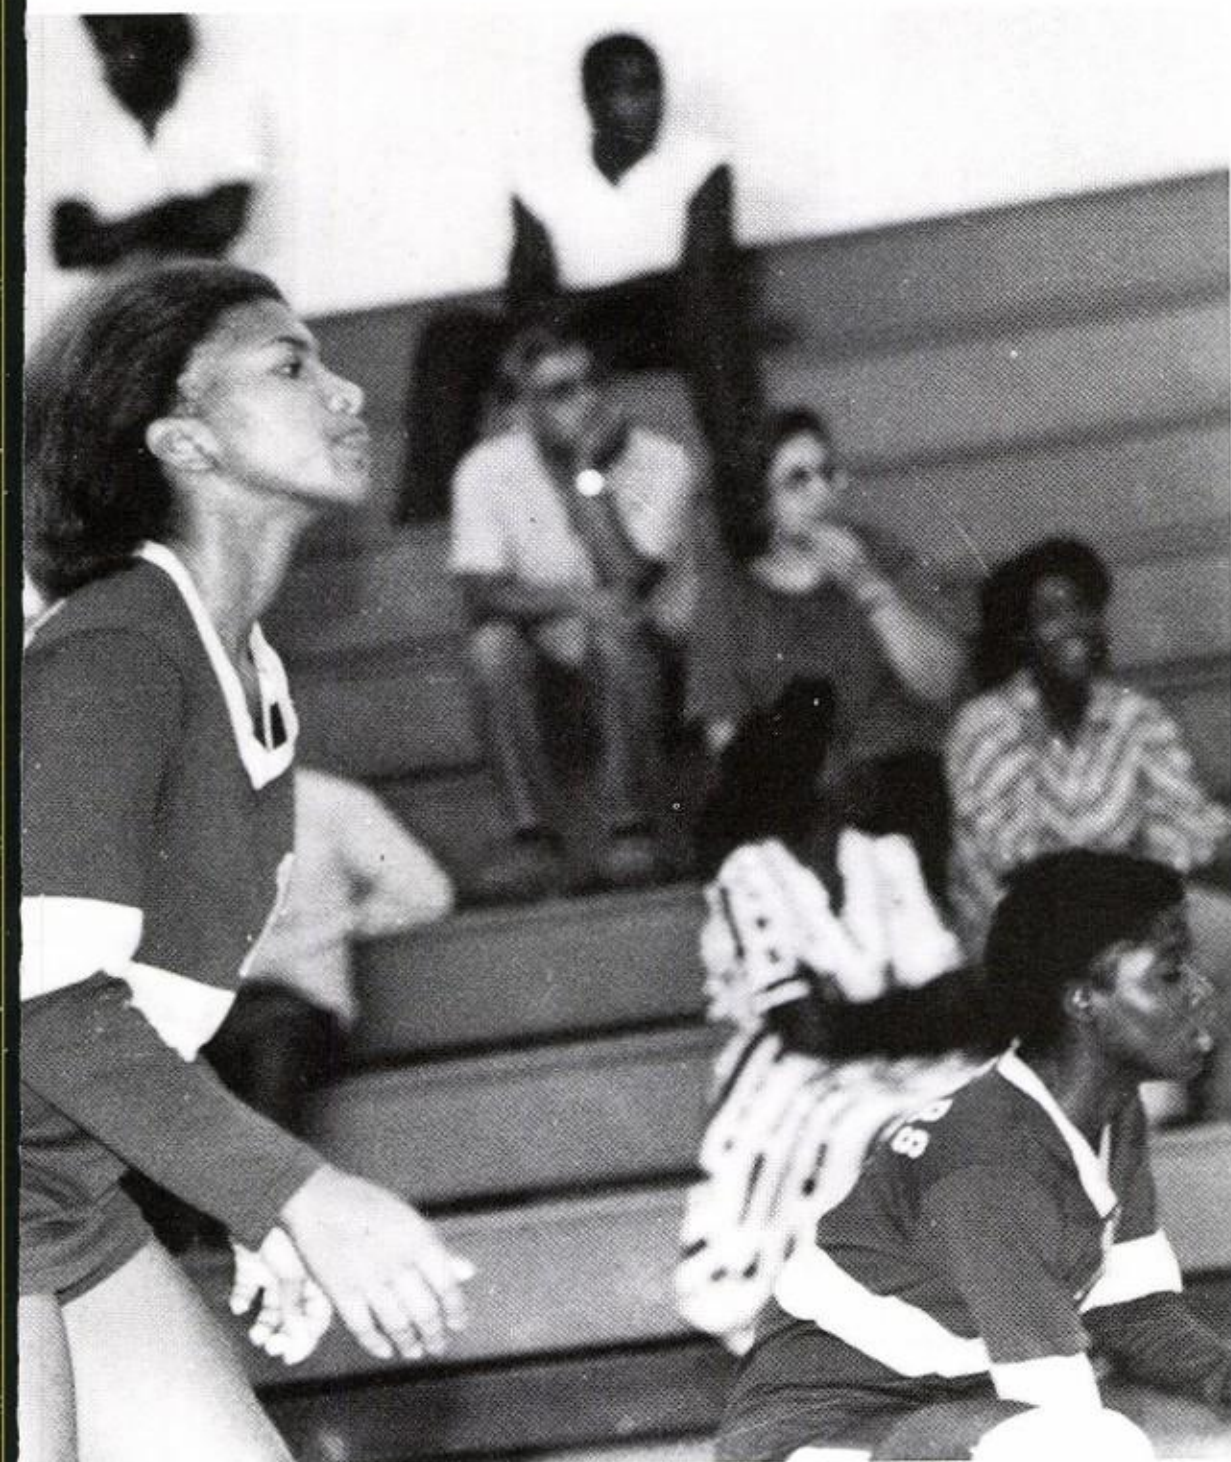

Coach McCain has a great outlook for next year. She looks forward to a winning district team. But no matter what happens, Coach McCain feels something special for her team. "It doesn't matter whether we win or lose," she said, "This is my team!"

With three of the eight starters out during district play, the J.V. Volleyball team suffered seven losses and picked up only two wins. Although their win record did not give them a season ranking, the girls' pride and loyalty to the team gave them a #1 slot throughout the year on the Cougar scoreboard.

Coach Irene Hopkins has an optimistic outlook for their next season. "A good freshman group is coming up so we will have more numbers," said Coach Hopkins.

The team picked up a new 6-0 playing system this year showing improvement with each game. Coach Hopkins plans on adding it in next year's playing strategy.

Sophomore Christie Dillard, MVP, aided the team with her sets and spikes at the net. With next year's increase in numbers and support, the J.V. Volleyball team is looking forward to a better season.

Teamwork Keeps Freshmen on Top

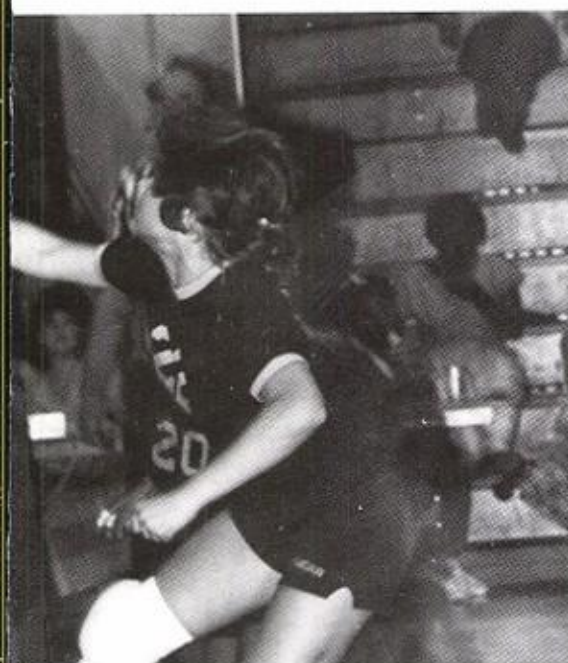

Freshman Volleyball pulled out of their season with a 16-8 record. "They worked very well as a team, continually boosting each other, each teammate concerned for the other teammates," said Coach Diane Evans. Because of their teamwork, they never gave up on any game.

District presented the girls with the toughest challenge. At MacArthur, the team experienced its first district win, causing much excitement.

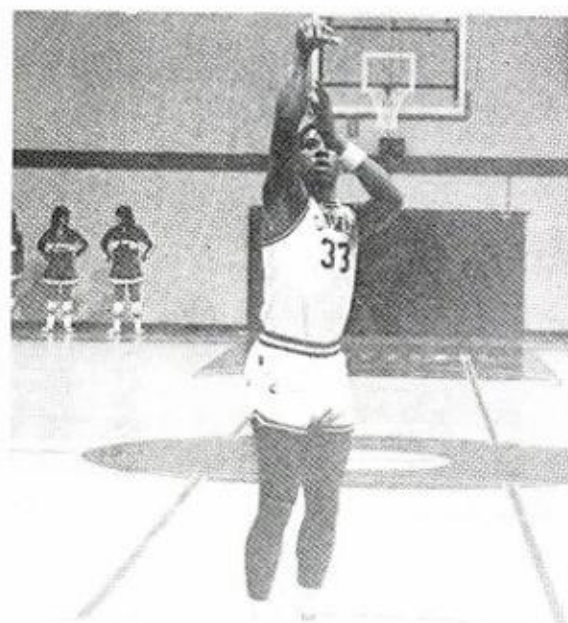

They finished district with a 5-4 record.

Coach Evans has a good outlook for next year. "This team will be tough to beat next year. They already work together now," she said.

J.V. Goes Over 500

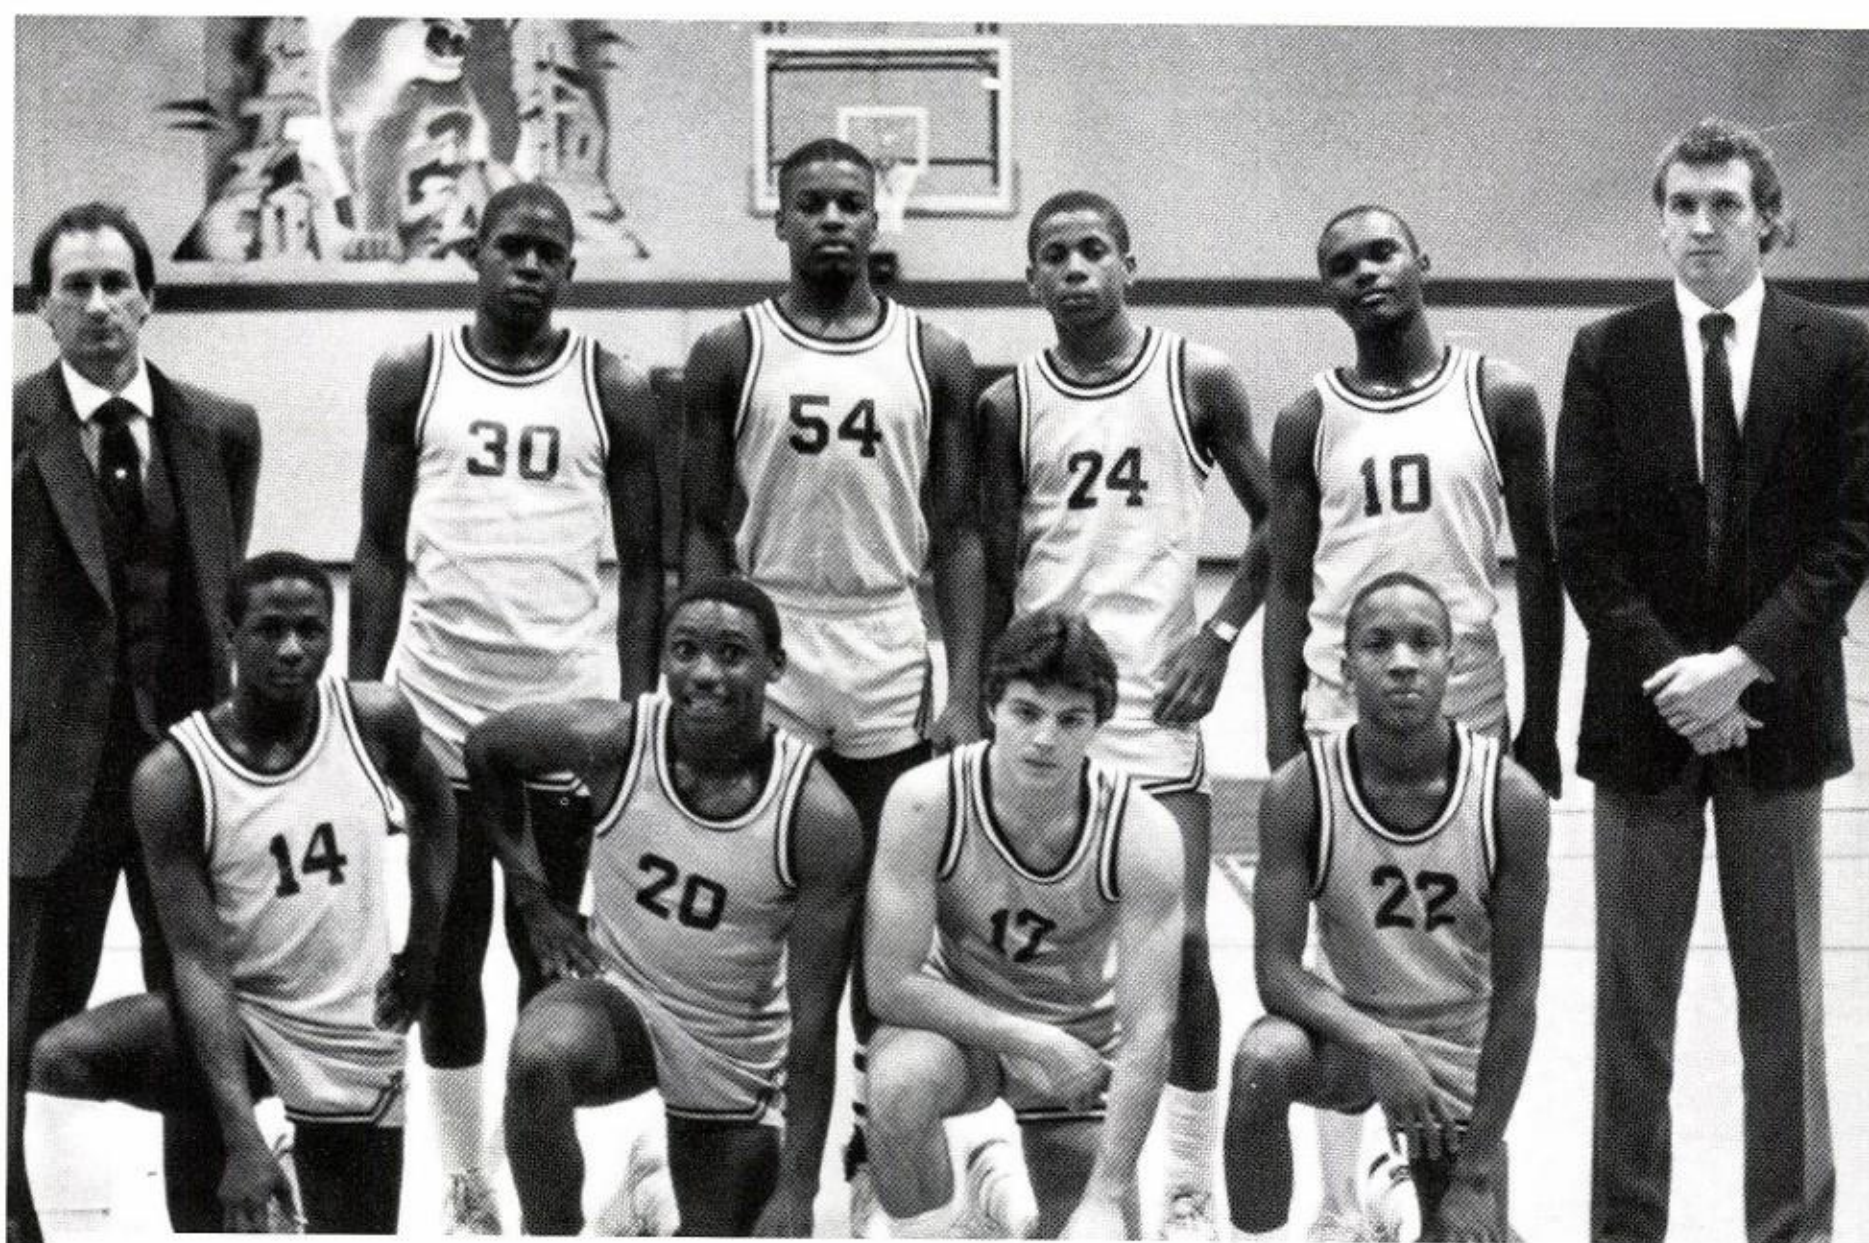

Loyalty and pride to the Cougar tradition kept the Junior Varsity Basketball team learning and working hard throughout the season. With only six players on the team, the boys pulled together to play an above average season.

"These are good kids who want to win," said Coach Charlie Martin.

During the season, the Junior Varsity Boys played their finest game against Forestbrook on the last second shot. They faced their toughest competition when they went up against MacArthur and Smiley. Coach Martin said there was not an outstanding player because all six young men contributed to the team a great deal.

Next year Coach Martin sees better team potential as long as the team continues to work hard and strive for their goal.

Scoring, Improvement Elements to Success

This year's Sophomore Basketball Team finished the season with a record of 5-5 in district and 10-11 overall. Balanced scoring and solid improvement from game to game marked the strength of this Sophomore squad. Seven of the eleven losses were by a margin of three points or less and this club defeated every team that it suffered a loss to with the exception of Cy-Fair and MacArthur.

The highlight of the season for the team came when the Cougars beat Aldine 61-50. At that time

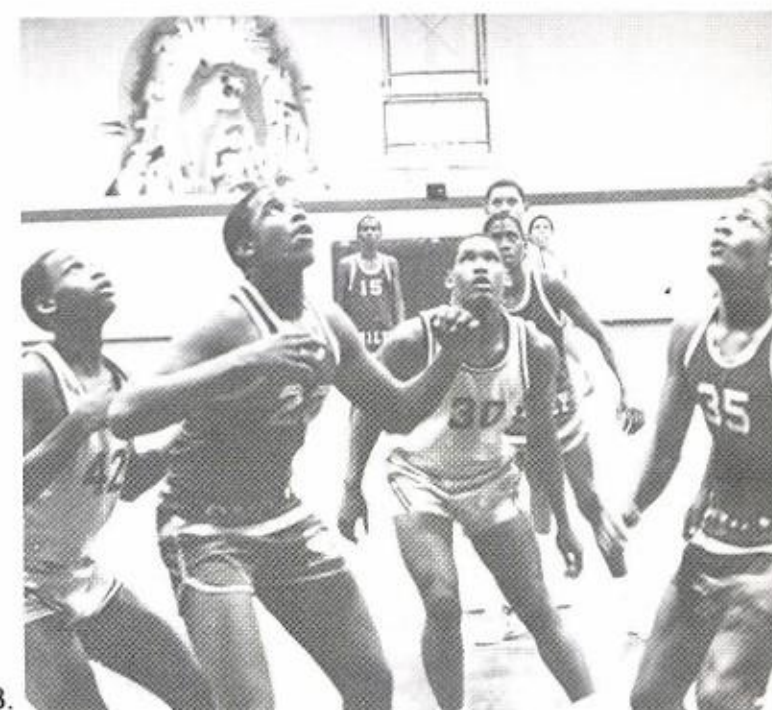

Aldine held a better record but the Cougs proved to them who was boss.

"All of these youngsters have a chance to continue their playing time as JV on Varsity players in 85-86," said Coach Bob Ligon.

Freshmen Had Desire

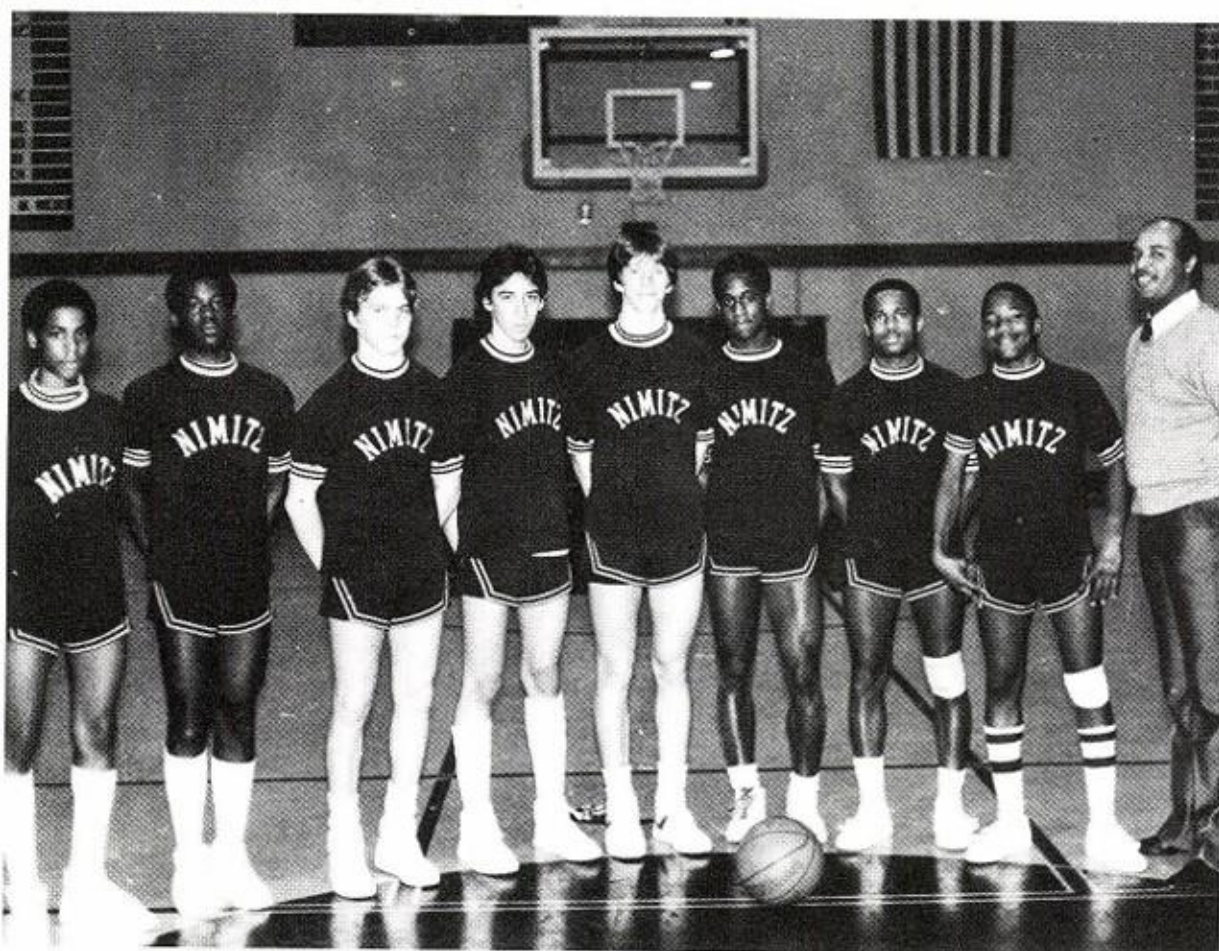

The Nimitz Freshman Basketball competed well this year and showed a lot of loyalty to the game of basketball. The Frosh had a desire to learn more about the game. They also realize that in time, they will be the team to beat in District 21-5A. Captains Mark Robinson and Tracy Garner held the team together throughout the season. Reginald Larry, Thomas DiPerna, Rusty Laird, and Stanley Johnson were strong players for the Freshman Cougar Basketball team. Coach Daryl Wade said, "As the Frosh coach I feel that the Cougars played well during the season. There were downfalls, but we got together and tried to overcome them. Good luck Cougars — Work hard and in time it will all pay off."

Lady Coogs Reach Potential

The lady Cougar basketball team came up against some pretty tough competition this past year. Coach Chickowski said, "The team is very young with little varsity experience, but they did reach their potential." Coach Chickowski also said, "There is always room for improvement and they lost some games due to lack of experience."

The varsity team's toughest competition was Smiley and MacArthur. The most valuable players this year were Gwen Johnson and Ann Washington.

The boys and girls Cross Country teams did a good job this year. We had some hard-working, dedicated athletes on the team," said Coach Kenneth Nichols. Determination and team loyalty kept both teams running strong. The Varsity boys team was usually ranked in the top seven at every meet and did very well at district. The J.V. and Freshman boys team each got a runner-up trophy this year.

Running Better Yearly

The girls, most running J.V. this season, usually placed in the top four at every meet. They received the runner-up trophy at two meets.

Coach Nichols said the outlook for next year is great. "It should be the best we have ever had." Only a few of the boys are leaving and four of the returning boys are lettermen. The girls are all returning so we should have a solid girls team," Coach Nichols said.

Attitude: Best Ever for Team

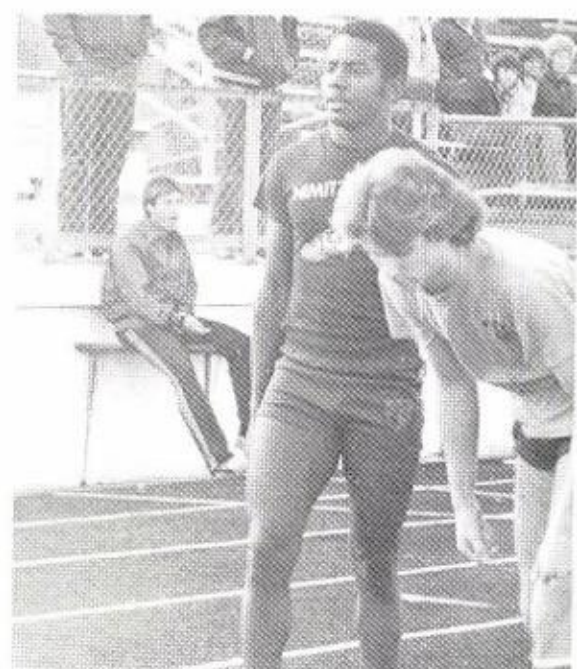

The boys' track team did well this year. The few freshmen that were on the team were of high quality and will give Nimitz a strong J.V. team next year. Coach Nichols feels like one or two might even make the Varsity squad as Sophomores.

At the district meet, the J.V. team took fifth place. However, earlier during the season they placed 2nd twice and came in third twice.

The Varsity Boys' Team, made up of four Seniors and one Sophomore, did very well at district. Those placing were Buster Crews, Rodrick Howard, Keith Davis, and Vincent Barlow. Keith placed 2nd in the 100 meter dash, enabling him to continue on and compete at Regionals. Vincent Barlow, who placed 1st in the long-jump at district also went and competed at Regionals.

"The men's attitude on this team was the best we have ever had here since I've been here. I am really looking forward to next year," said Coach Nichols.

This year's tennis teams as Coach Rinda Koppitz said, "is the best group of tennis players overall." The girls' tennis team placed first in district with the boys' team finishing second. Most Valuable and Outstanding Players Jeff Wilhelm and Billy Pate placed first in district doubles competition.

Coach Koppitz has a great outlook for next year — "I look forward to boys and girls winning team tennis. They have the overall desire from #1 through the last person on the ladder to get better. Next year we will definitely get closer to our goal!"

Nimitz Aquatics: A Year Round Sports

To most people, swimming is a summer sport. But to the Nimitz Aquatics Team, swimming is a year round sport. This year's team did extremely well, with the girls' team placing first in district and the boys swimming in second. This made Nimitz history for the girls placing second. MVP, Karen Schwartz, led the girls' team in the district meet, placing 1st in butterfly and 1st in the medley relay with the help from Dena Livergood, Layla Loria, and Tish Jordan. Bryan Shipman, MVP male, placed first in the breaststroke and 100 freestyle.

Coach Mari Kaufman is very proud of this year's team. "They had plenty of energy," she stated. Coach Kaufman has a positive outlook for the team next year. "Lots of strong freshmen and sophomores are returning," she said; "LOOKS GOOD!!!"

A Successful 6-1 Year

The Nimitz diving team had a busy, but extremely successful year. The diving record for both boys and girls teams was 6-1.

The team's toughest competition was Cy-Creek. That did not discourage them, as a team, when they traveled to San Jacinto Relay. The females came in first and the males placed second. Dena Livergood made finals for female regionals.

The outstanding divers for this past year were Dena Livergood, 1st in district; Kelly Donnahoe, 2nd in District; Amy Muehlem, 3rd in district. In boys competition, Ron Moretz, 2nd in district; John Ward, 4th in district; and Randy Voyles, 5th in district.

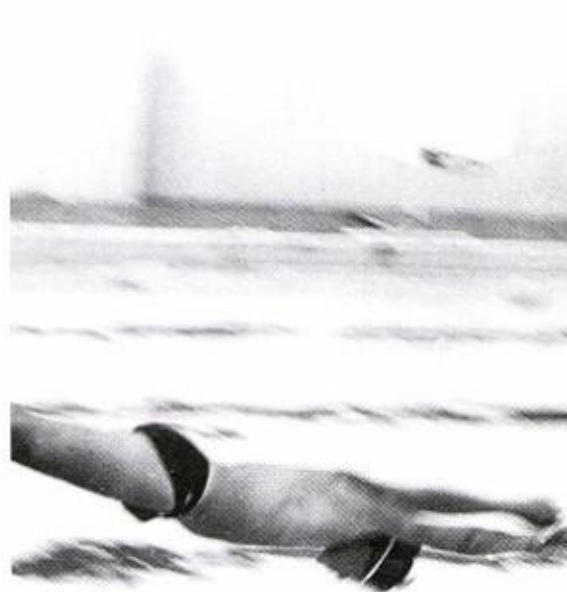

Ms. Kaufman, the diving sponsor, said, "Dena and Amy worked especially hard. They were very supportive to each other and absolutely wonderful to work with."

Student Council

Adds 'fish' to L.B.C.

Even though the Student Council was hit by House Bill #72 pretty hard, they did manage to hold some fundraisers. The most successful Student Council event was the dance, in which Vanishing Point performed. Posters and announcements were printed and the student body impulsively responded. The dance was a huge success. Other fundraisers sponsored by the Student Council were the selling of Christmas Dog Stockings and Valentine's Day balloons. With the funds raised by Student Council through the year, they were able to purchase a Microfish file cabinet for the library.

National Honor Society

A Combination of Qualities

What is the only organization at Nimitz combining academic excellence, schoolwide leadership, service, and citizenship? None other than the National Honor Society. Under the direction of Miss Sandra Finch, Honor Society held key meetings throughout the year to discuss their projects.

Students are selected to be in the society by teacher recommendation and class rank. This past year, the chapter inducted sixty new members. This was the largest induction that Nimitz has held and the largest membership with a total of seventy-eight members. Several meetings were held before induction night in order to gather the new members together and inform them of their duties and obligations.

During December, the society contributed a variety of fruit baskets to the needy. Fund-raisers began early in February with the society selling seven flavors of popcorn. This turned out to be a large success, raising over $1000 profit. The money was used for scholarships given to two senior members. The society also held a banquet in May celebrating the successful year.

Logge

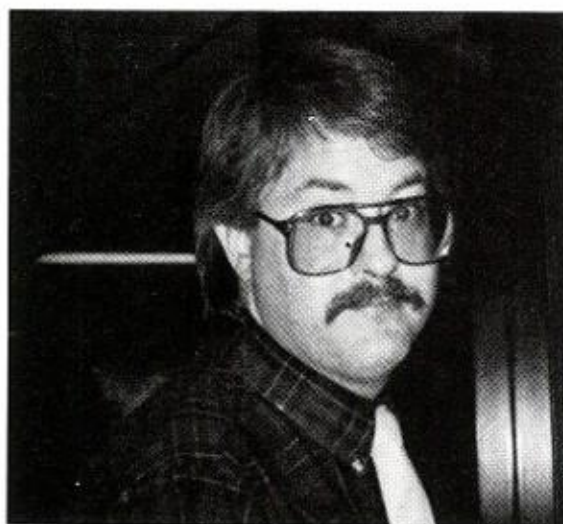

"Hand me a cropper, find me the white out, where's the contact books? I need pictures, let me in the darkroom, DEADLINE, what deadline?"

These were just a few of the many sounds that were produced in the yearbook room in 1985.

With the main objective to please the student body with better quality, creativity, accuracy, and individualism than ever before, the staff put many hours of hard work and plenty of concentration into the making of the yearbook. Throughout the year, strained and difficult times occurred: pictures not taken, lost layouts, no copy written, pictures not developed, clubs not showing up to take pictures for their page, and a small staff to meet the new deadlines. The biggest problem was the effect House Bill 72 played. With this new bill, the staff could no longer interrupt class time to take pictures or work on the finishing touches of the yearbook. Many arguments accumulated through these bad times and many staff members realized that putting a yearbook together is not an easy task.

To begin, ideas are compiled together to form a layout, then pictures and technical designs are the next step. Finally, creative features are added to make the pages special. However to assure perfection, these pages must pass inspection by Gary Clem, Advisor.

Regardless of the pressures that publishing a yearbook can develop, there was still time for fun. Such frivolous activities included cropper wars, adopting Lori as our "MOM," Dana, Karen and Ellen's laugh attacks, John recruiting for the Marines, hackytape games in the darkroom, Vinnie spilling the chemicals and having to clean them up — not to mention mixing the wrong chemicals together, the staff harmonizing together to the songs on the radio, Darren's shoulder to lean on, Dana falling out of the chair, all the photographers letting go of the water hose with the result of a wet darkroom, Mr. Clem's sense of humor, and finally we leave Kim the hope to roll her own film and not leave it for Derek.

This was the year for new beginnings and new encounters. As the Mighty Cougars prowled through the year, the staff captured these moments on film to produce "ON THE PROWL."

Close-Up

Experience is the Key

Each year a group of students participate in Close Up. Close Up is a one week trip to Washington D.C., where students get a closer look at our country's governmental system and politics. This year the group went during election week. The group went to seminars, workshops, listened to guest speakers, and was in Washington to witness President Reagan's re-election. "We had a blast," said Jayna Gliddin. "We saw so many new things but my favorite activity had to be when Mrs. Kaufman, Karen Peart, and I all went jogging at 5:30 A.M. in Washington. It was so pretty!!" The most shocking moment was Derek Drawhorn's facial expression when he entered the hotel room to find a surprise birthday party in store for him. Mrs. Mari Kaufman said, "The kids who went on this trip are the lucky ones. They are the ones who later in life will understand the political system from their one week of experience."

The thankless life of a journalist was well known to Cougar Carrier staff members. The young but dedicated staff went about daily duties writing copy, arranging pictures and columns, carrying on the search for news and matters of interest. The staff's hard work was rewarded only by having to give up a lunch or a study hall to peddle the latest issue to students.

The newspaper served to keep students informed on the activities, honors, current events, and anything from movie reviews to politics.

On a lighter note, students were able to have Santa Claus letters, nominations for Cupid Sweethearts, and Valentine Wishes printed in two of the Carrier's seasonal papers.

Cheerleaders Overcome Obstacles With Determination

Determination, hope, and willpower were the words used to summarize the Cougar Cheerleaders. They were determined for excellence and hoped for victory.

Senior Co-Head, Denise Wilson said, "Being a cheerleader takes a lot of time but in the end, it's terrific and fun."

There were a few changes that the cheerleaders had to adapt to in order to get the year started, such changes included: receiving a new sponsor and House Bill 72. The new sponsor, Bonnie Williamson, was no problem. The girls all felt she did a good job. "She tries real hard and is there if we need help," said Junior Lori Woods. The new House Bill 72 was quite different. For starters, the girls lost their two-hour class in which they could practice cheers, stunts, and gymnastics, which get ready for the pep rallies, and make the signs for the upcoming game. This resulted in longer after-school practices.

— Cheerleaders —

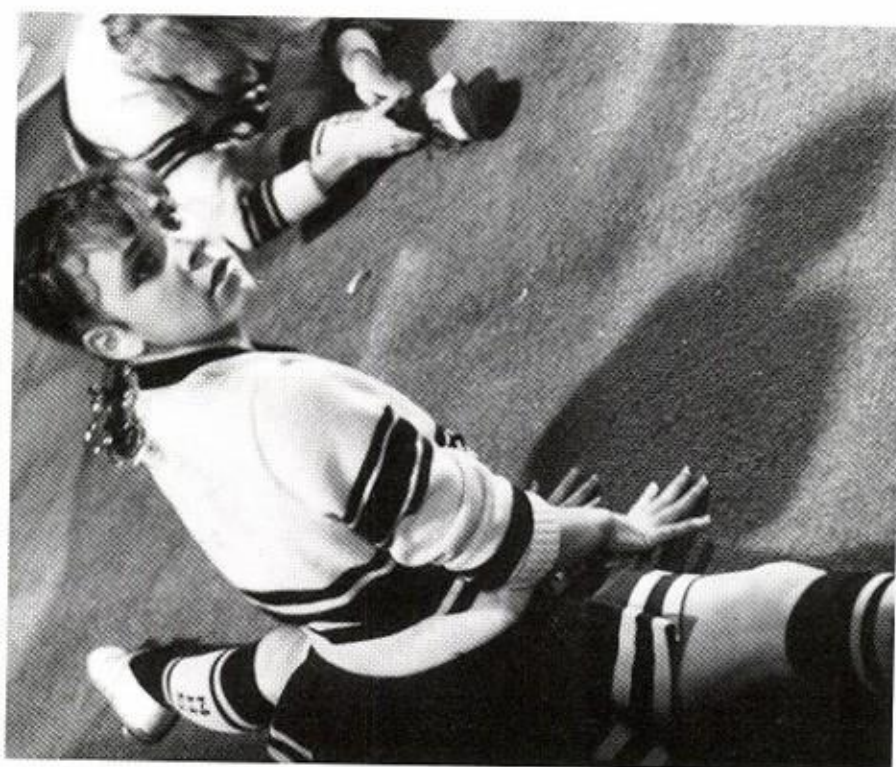

The girls attended Sam Houston State Cheerleading Camp during the summer. There they received superior ratings and were eligible for the Award of Excellence. They also brought back plenty of spirit sticks.

One of the most honored events was modeling for Macy's, in Deerbrook Mall, August for their Fashion Show.

Once again, one of our cheerleaders has been nominated for NCA cheerleading instructor, Denise Wilson.

Not only did the cheerleaders attend football games, but basketball too. The girls were kept busy, not only cheering but selling football and basketball ribbon, Christmas cards and wrapping paper, Nimitz sweaters, socks, shirts.

"All the girls worked hard. At times they were down, but their willpower was strong enough to keep them going," said Sponsor, Ms. Williamson.

Mascots

Dressed to Roar

Energetic, brave, crazy, and daring are just a few words used to describe this year's Mascots and Cougar Crew.

Mascot's are the special people who provide entertainment to people of all ages while sparking spirit and good sportsmanship all at once. This year's mascots include, 3-year veteran, Dana Carpenter; 2-year veteran, Jayna Glidden; and newcomer Tasha Denton. Each of the girls supply plenty of laughter and enjoyment for all football and basketball fans, while on the other hand, supplied headaches for the Cougar Crew.

The Cougar Crew is responsible for many things. The female members put up signs for the football game as well as escorting the cougar around the stadium. The male members not only guard the Cougar, but perform stunts with the cheerleaders. All members are responsible for putting the run-through sign on and off the bus and holding it as well for the HUNGRY COUGARS to tear through it.

The Blue and Gold Does It Again!

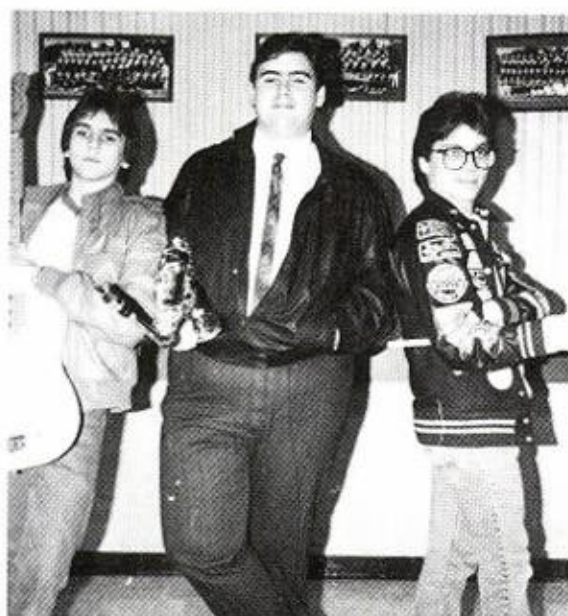

Being a member of the Roaring Cougar Band takes plenty of dedication, pride, and hard work. This year the members upheld their reputation as they competed in several different contests and came out on top. At Tropicana Music Bowl, the band was selected as one of the finalists in the open class competition. At concert and sighting reading contest, the band brought home 118 solos and ensemble awards not to mention I division ratings. The band went to Six Flags for their trip; there they received I division ratings. "The trip was great and a lot of fun," said Senior Member Kirston Belson.

Throughout the year, the band performed specially at the ground-breaking ceremony for the Hardy Toll Road, at the Wyndham Hotel for the Chrysler Corporation, and at Deerbrook Mall. Once again the Band was invited to perform at the Bluebonnet Bowl in which they shared the halftime show with the TCU band.

Point

anishing Comes to NHS

After a long exhausting week of taking final exams, the student council sponsored a well deserved night dance.

The hard work began weeks before January 17, with student council members meeting several times during study halls in order to prepare for the upcoming dance. During this time Vanishing Point was selected to be the entertainment for the night; posters and announcement were printed, and the excitement among the student body began to stir.

The days went by fast until the night of the dance finally arrived. As you walked in, there was an explosion of strobe lights, bubble and fog machines, and synthesizers pounding on the walls and floors of the cafeteria. The D.J.'s played many of the favorite songs and took dedications as well.

"I enjoyed the dance so much," said Senior Belinda Perales, "I was able to hold my date real close during the slow songs."

The evening was enjoyed by everyone. The dance floor was seldom empty and as the clock ran down to the last few seconds, the D.J.'s announced the last song. There was a loud murmur throughout the audience of people who did not want to leave. The students left with yet another high school memory to hold within their hearts.

Drill

New Beginning for Angels

When the 1984-85 Starboard Angel officers were announced last May, it meant a new beginning for the Starboard Angels. Considering there were no Senior officers, the underclassmen who were named to the positions had to work harder to gain experience, respect and leadership. They all pulled together and made this year's drill team the best.

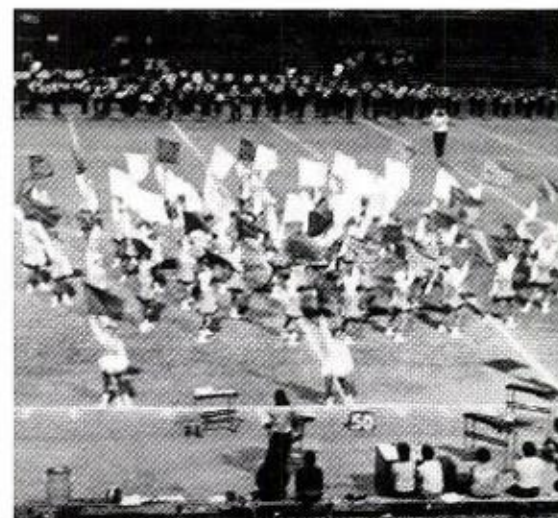

Beginning with camp, the Starboard Angels began to display their tremendous dancing ability throughout the state. During line camp, many members received halftime ribbons for outstanding performances. On the last day of camp, the Angels were honored when Jennifer Davis was named Ms. Halftime U.S.A. To add to the excitement, they were awarded a trophy for their outstanding military routine. After camp, it was straight back to school for practice. Football season went by quickly, and the Angels performed well.

After football season the girls began practices for competition. The competition season was long. They went to Friendswood, then to Oak Ridge, where they got straight ones from every judge in every category. The officers were awarded a sweepstakes trophy for receiving ones in their Jazz, High Kick and Prop Routines. The following Angels were given a solo medal; Jennifer Davis, Lori Santos, and Kim Collins.

After Oak Ridge, the Drill team went straight to work for Nationals. The Angels were very successful in receiving superior ratings in their Jazz, High Kick, and Prop routine. The officers also received a superior rating. When the Angels returned home again for the 50th Anniversary of the Aldine District they performed a High Kick to "She Works Hard For The Money."

Cougar Choirs Hit High Notes

Throughout the 1984-85 year, the Nimitz choir kept a busy schedule, "Puttin' on the Hits," the Pop Program, triggered the beginning of the many programs in which they would participate. In December, the choir sang in the Christmas spirit with the program "A Christmas Musical Medley." They also entertained at Macy's in Deerbrook, Greenspoint Mall, Optimist Club, the Marriott Hotel, and at the opening of Deerbrook Commons.

Two of Nimitz's piano soloists and 17 solo and ensemble students made 1's when the choir competed in the UIL concert and sightreading. Solo and Ensemble members who made 1's went on to Austin for the State Competition. A spaghetti dinner was sponsored by the parents of choir and the choir students provided entertainment. The choir ended its busy schedule with a Banquet at the L'Hotel Sofetel in May.

High Above Normal Standards

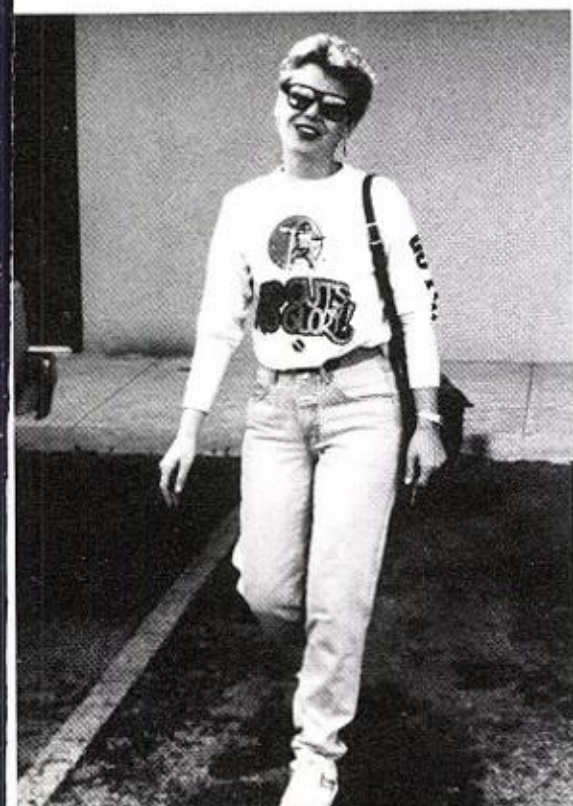

Finishing off the year with four members qualifying to state competition, the debate squad has reason to be proud.

At the beginning of the year, the squad wasn't quite sure how to react towards House Bill 72. The members normally go to 12-15 tournaments through the year but this year they only went to eight. "If anything stood in our way, it was the state legislation hampering us," says Senior member Derek Drawhorn.

"The team has so much to be proud of," said Mrs. Paula Vinzant, coach.

This year the teams of Derek Drawhorn/Mark Mason and Doug Venverloh/Arthur Lim advanced to state competition. At this competition, Drawhorn/Mason placed 5th and Venverloh/Lim placed ninth. They also received two extra awards, Top Speakers; Mason first and Drawhorn third.

Drama

The Drama Department had a full and successful 1984-85 year. They participated in the U.I.L. contests with a condensed version of "All the Way Home." Drama presented "All the Way Home" to Nimitz in January. The production proved to be a very powerful performance. The organization held a Christmas fundraiser and the money was used in the department.

Thespians

Actively Involved

Thespians is an international honor drama fraternity established for the advancement and recognition of the students of the theatre. The name Thespians comes from the ancient Greek actor Thespis who was the father of actors or the first actor. Thespians is a service organization designed to promote the theatre.

Becoming a member of Thespians is not an easy task. In order to become a member, a person must earn a total of ten points — each point being worth ten hours of hard work. Points can be obtained by play participation, technical work, and other designated activities.

Members of the Thespian Society participate in the Drama fundraisers under the direction of Miss Karen Stewart. The Drama Department is doing three different productions that the Thespians will participate. The club currently has fourteen members. The officers, all of which are senior members, are Kim Hopkins, President; Brian Mills, Vice-President; Angie Scott, Secretary; Stuart Burson, Historian.

Spirit Club

Spirit Reaches Highest Peak

Sparkling enthusiasm and bringing the student body together were the main objectives for this year's Spirit Club.

Beginning the year with a new sponsor, Ms. Rhonda Swift, and getting adjusted to House Bill 72, the Cougar fans were once again on the prowl.

During football season, the Spirit Club was instrumental in bringing the Nimitz student body closer together. They painted and posted posters and signs in the cafeteria for all the activities; they also painted and decorated cars and the school building for the homecoming game. "When the students walked out of the building and saw the decorated cars, it was fantastic," replies sponsor Ms. Swift.

This year the Spirit Club once again participated in the "Toys for Tots" drive and also collected clothing and canned foods for a needy family during the holiday season.

New Ideas Bring Changes

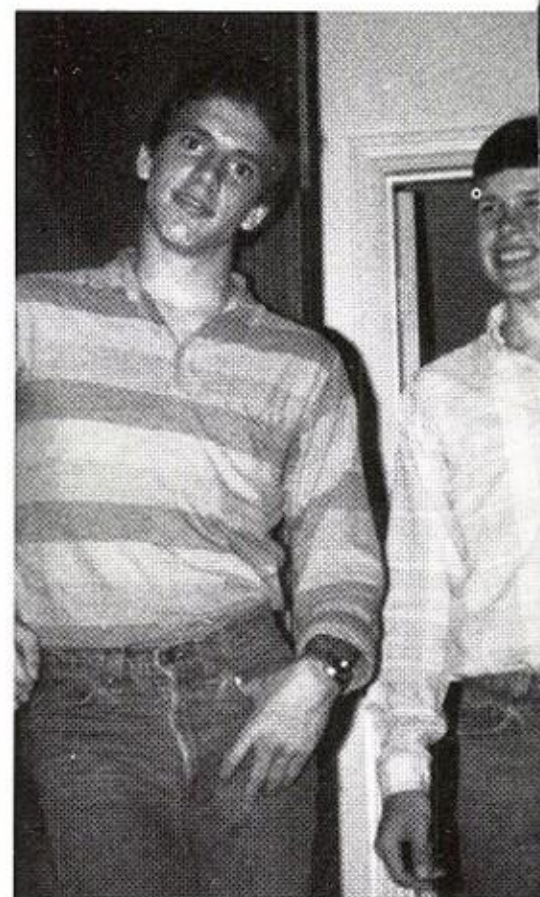

Even though the Calliope had a small staff, new ideas and changes were made. The biggest change was having the book Professionally typeset. The end result was satisfied students and staff. Editor, Paul Kendall, felt that this year's Calliope was the finest ever. A talented young breed of Nimitz students used their unique imaginations to produce a piece of literature. Calliope encourages and motivates students to write not for an assignment but for personal enjoyment and satisfaction by rewarding them the opportunity to have their works published. Calliope also serves to give the reader a rare, extraordinary glimpse of true feelings, thoughts, and hearts of "TYPICAL TEENAGES."

CSU / FCA

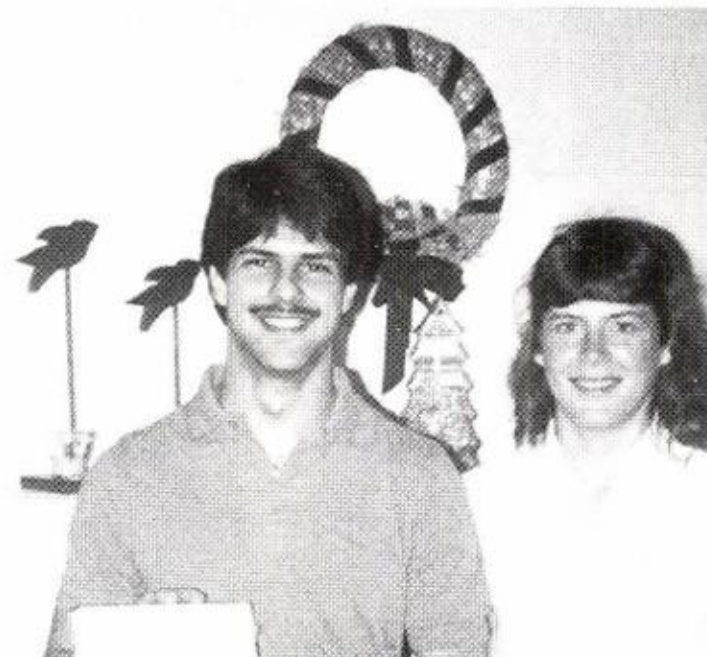

Foundation for Growth

Every Tuesday morning after 7:15, you may see about 70 students heading upstairs for a CSU/FCA gathering.

Among the students are the officers; President, David Stevens; Vice President, Patti Walkrep; Secretary, Angela Ainsworth; and Treasurer, Kim O'Neal. Along with the sponsor, Coach Kirk Hall, Coach Stuart Forman, Mr. John Pecoraro, and Mr. Pearston, the officers help to encourage and build up one another in Christ. Mr. Pecoraro's hope for the club is to help young people realize that daily Bible study and prayer are important in Christian growth.

This club also wants to become involved since they are sponsored by the National Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Once a month the club has a party at one of the member's homes. They sing, eat, and fellowship together. The party usually ends with a guest speaker.

Woodworking

Building a Future

Construction Trades is a course that covers different aspects of carpentry, plumbing, and electrical construction. This class consists of 2 two-hour blocks daily. Many times in the past, they have donated their time in building dance props, stage sets, and other tangible accoutrements that make up school events. House Bill 72 has affected the class because it has put a restriction on the type of students that can be enrolled in the class. This deprives many of learning and building their future.

ALL THE WAY HOME

ad Mosel's drama All the Way Home was brought to life as members of the Nimitz

Drama Department presented their 1984-1985 fall production. The play took place in the Nimitz auditorium on January 10 and 11 in front of a large crowd. Drama teacher, Karen Stewart directed the show and Dana Loving assisted.

All the Way Home, set in and around Knoxville, Tennessee, covers a period of four days in May of 1915. The theme deals with the effects of a young man's death on a family and coping with the sudden loss of a loved one.

The cast experienced many phases of emotions and thoughts as they developed their characters. This play examined the different responses from different members of the family group. All the Way Home included humor amidst the tragic situation. The play brought across the message that life must go on — a message that is very true. A very true-to-life play incorporates many aspects that nearly all people at some point in their life must deal with.

Based on the novel A Death in the Family, by James Agee, All the Way Home gave the drama students the opportunity to portray very real characters in a tragic situation. Excellent performances were given by Angie Scott, Wade Hescht, Stuart Burson and Yvette Hutchins.

Rather than choose a new play and recast for U.I.L. one act play competition, director Karen Stewart spent many hours cutting the full length version of the show down to a 40 minute workable one-act. Led by lead actress

'The play brought across the message that life must go — a message that is very true.'

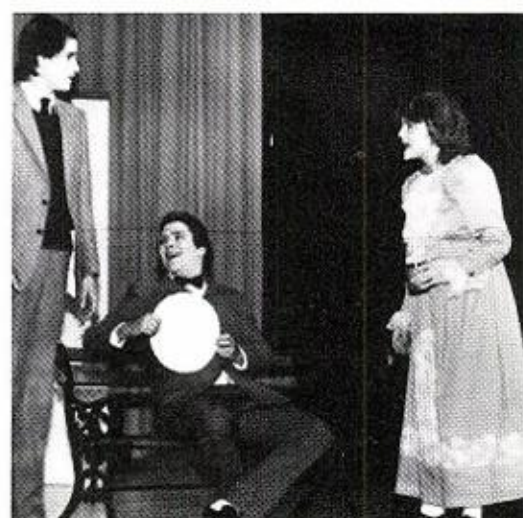

Angie Scott, the cast presented their one-act version of All the Way Home at MacArthur High School for competition.

Angela Scott gave her farewell performance as Mary Follett in the show. For the past four years, Angie has been one of the most active members of the Nimitz Drama Department and a three year member of Thespians. Stuart Burson and Kim Hopkins also experienced their last year in Drama this year.

In addition to working under Karen Stewart, the cast and crew had the opportunity to work with drafting teacher Cynthia Helms. Mrs. Helms aided the students with costume ideas and hair designs.

As the curtain closes, members of the cast knew that they were on their way home.

Spanish

Have you ever heard of the saying where two is better than one? The Spanish club adopted this saying as they had two Spanish Clubs; one for Spanish I students and the other one for Spanish II-IV. Mrs. Premo and Mrs. Ryals both feel this will encourage more students to join the clubs.

As in the past, both clubs went once a month to a Spanish restaurant in the surrounding Houston area and from time to time had guest speakers to explain the Spanish language, customs, and way of life. Both Spanish Clubs participated in the Foreign Language Banquet at Christmas and added entertainment by bringing a piñata.

The Spanish I students also sponsored a foster child for Christmas by participating in the "Three Wishes" program. The little girl was entitled to three gifts; however the club was able to give her more.

They also visited a Children's Hospital in the Spring.

Victorious Cata Pult

The Latin Club's activities through the year were filled with many exciting things that the entire club participated. The club displayed their talents by participating in a cata pult contest against MacArthur and Eisenhower. Without batting an eye, Nimitz was victorious. They also attended the Junior Classical League Regional Gulf Coast convention for competition in academic, art, and costume events. At Christmas, the Latin club enjoyed themselves at the Foreign Language Banquet.

Students must be taking Latin or have taken it in the past to belong to this organization. Also one must attend all the planned activities since it is part of the club's requirements.

Happy to be S.A.D.

Each year many lives are taken away because of the use of drugs. Whether it's drunk driving, or drugs such as marijuana, LSD, or cocaine. Many of the lives could have been saved if action would have been taken. This year at Nimitz such action has already been put into effect. Mr. John Pecoraro and Coach Kirk Hall, sponsors of Students Against Drugs, have required members to sign a form committing themselves to fight against drugs. Also members wear t-shirts displaying their cause. As the year progressed more students began to take action. According to Principal Jack Welch, he would like to have as many students involved at Nimitz to join the new club.

Wilderness

Adventuresome Cougars, Prowl.

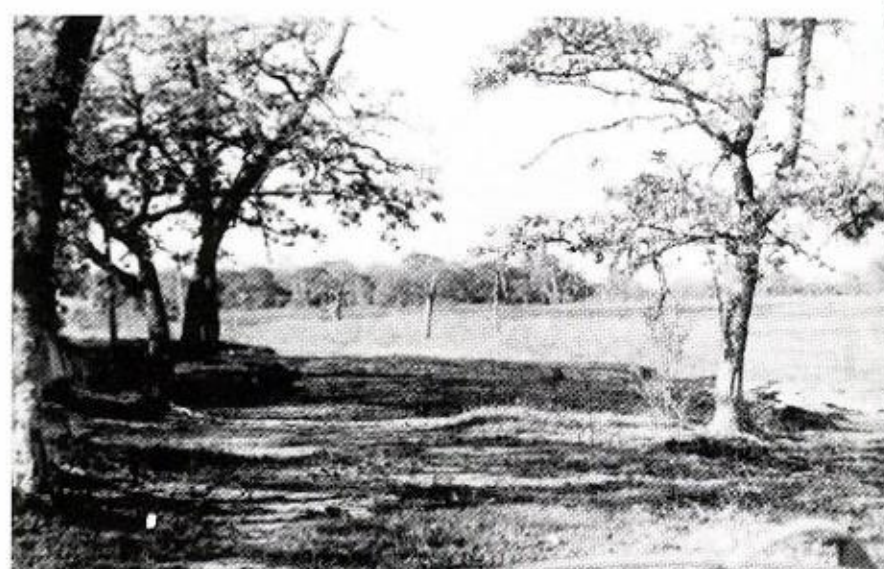

This year the Cougars prowled through the wilderness seven times. The best and most memorable hike was in San Marcos during Spring Break at Perdenales Falls State Park. At the hikes, lazy days were spent fishing and enjoying the outdoors. The club has been noted for experimenting also. One experiment was that they made hot water using solar energy. "You have to be there to have and understand how fun it is," said Senior Don Heimbach.

FFA Reaps a Harvest of Activities

Have you ever experienced the thrill of victory or the agony of defeat? This year Nimitz Future Farmers of America, (FFA), used this as their motto. Many of the cowboys participated in rodeos. The main rodeo was Lucky Lady in Humble on December 16, 1984. It was here that the motto was adopted. Kevin Lucas, Mark Scherer, Shannon Chapman, Ken Tullos, and Steven Hoffmeyer all rode bulls. With the buzzer broken for the sounding of the end of a ride, not to mention bad weather, the boys had a hard day of bad luck. Steve Hoffmeyer experienced cracked ribs and Ken Tullos a broken hand on their rides.

After the rodeo, everyone attended a dance. Tim Tiller and Chet McBride played in the band while the others kicked up their heels and danced the night away. Around the month of February, many of the students participated in judging at the Houston Livestock Show. There were two teams that Nimitz produced, a dairy team and a livestock team. The dairy team judged cows and the livestock team judged sheep, bulls and horses. Lonnie Johnson was honored with being Nimitz 1984-1985 FFA Sweetheart.

Deca

DECA Has Active Year

The 1984-85 Nimitz Chapter of the Distributive Education Club had a very active year. The chapter started the year off by participating in the Halloween Carnival for the children at the Lane Center. They continue to keep themselves busy by competing in Three C Conferences at Klein Oak, where Mary Hernandez won in Restaurant Marketing; Klein Forest in which Michelle Roy won in Restaurant Marketing; and the Area Three Conference, where Stacey Locke won in Restaurant Marketing.

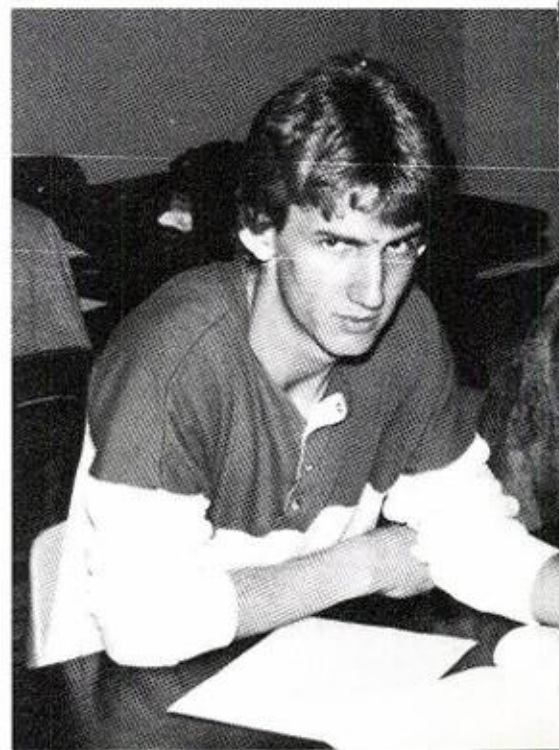

Dana Carswell, Liz Collura, Tina Hodges and Stacey Locke competed with 1,200 other DECA members from South East Texas, just to represent Nimitz at the Conference. The students compete against other students for awards in an area related to their training station. The areas are as follows: General Merchandise, General Marketing, Food Marketing, Restaurant Marketing, Service Station Retailing, Advertising Services, Finance and Credit, Apparel and Accessories. The 1984-85 officers are: Becky Harrison, President; Tina Hodges, Vice President; Dana Carswell, Vice President; Theresa Smith, Secretary; Liz Collura, Treasurer; Stacey Locke, Historian; Darrin Womack, Sgt.-at-Arms; Duane Wesolick, Chaplain.

Knowledge + Love = FHA

V.E.H. (Vocational Education for Handicapped) Food Service is a class especially designed to be different from a regular class. It is a pre-employment course, where students acquire skills needed for entry-level jobs such as waiter, waitress, busperson and other related job areas.

The class is taken for two consecutive years, two hours a day, five days a week. The students practice their skills by preparing and serving breakfast and other types of dishes to student body, and especially other vocational classes.

This year Food Service sold caramel corn at Christmas to raise money for a gift (bicycle) for a young boy from the Children Protective Service.

HECE-HERO

HECE Goes for It All

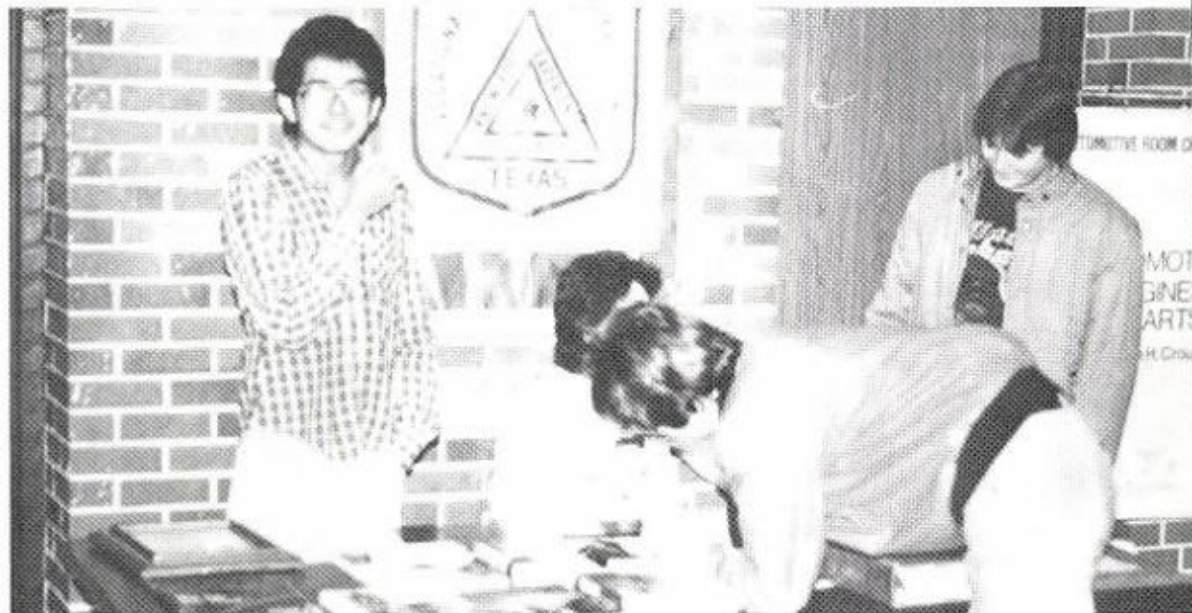

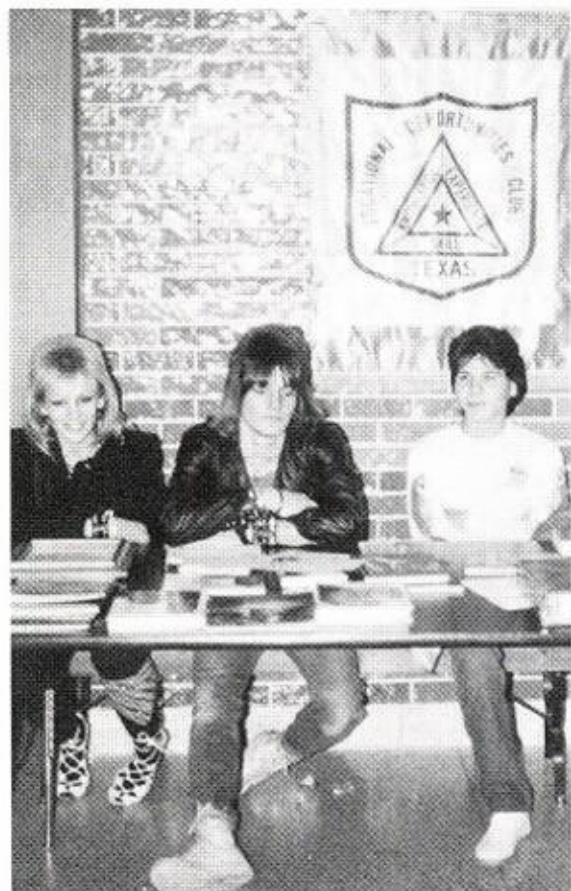

H.E.C.E. stands for Home Economics Cooperative Education. Students in HECE go to school half a day and work half a day in clothing stores, fabric stores, restaurants, bakeries, day care centers, and interior design studios. In HECE class, students study lessons that will help them on the job. They also study independent living and careers to prepare for the future. Most students have received several raises on the job by the time they graduate, and many have been promoted to management training.

Some of the H.E.C.E. activities included a fashion show of prom fashions on February 22, and the Blue Ribbon Rice Original Recipe Contest, February 18. H.E.C.E. student, Charnae Grant, was selected as one of the top six finalists in the Houston area out of two thousand students. In the final contest on March 16 at Baybrook Mall, Charnae placed runner up and received a $50.00 prize. Through FHA/HERO, students participated in service projects such as the Lane Center Halloween Carnival and Christmas food and clothing baskets for needy families. Students also attended the Area III Meeting in Houston March 22-23 and State Meeting April 12-13 in Houston.

Working on the Future

ICT, Industrial Cooperative Training, is an organization that offers a student to take the academics subjects as other students for three class periods and ICT for one period each day. Satisfaction on Work, Selecting Career or Job Targets, Job-Seeking Strategy and Preparing a Job-Application Resume are subjects that the students study on in the textbooks and workbooks. Essential Elements is the book the ICT student works from on their job. The students leave school at 12:10 and go to work. They work 15 to 20 hours a week during school.

An example of what fortune ICT can bring to a person is Cheryl Leach. Cheryl is a surgical assistant for three oral and maxillofacial surgeons. She was one of the 24 out of 100 applicants to attend Lamar University's dental hygiene program. She also received a $1500 scholarship.

Food Service

Hard Work Pays Off

Food Service is a class full of excitement, but a lot of work. Besides preparing meals for the teachers, the students also cook for visitors that come to Nimitz. This class learns how to prepare their favorite dishes but also learn how to clean them! When asked, a few students said they would like to go in some sort of food business, while others would just like to cook for themselves. Almost all of the students agreed that despite all the hard work — it's a great class!

Math/Science —

Solving for Answers

Continuing the traditions of representing Nimitz at U.I.L. Regional competitions since the school opened, the Math/Science teams have plenty of things to be proud of. The students spent long hours practicing and learning shortcuts to tests. A great deal of time and effort went into preparing for competitions. Members like Doug Ververloh, Mark Mason, Eva Joe, Jimmy Vaughan, and Mike Garrett, placed several times at district meets.

Mr. McClenny said, "The teams have plenty of time for growth and improvement considering they have another year left until graduation."

One is the fact of two great advisors, Anne Hazzan and Frank McClenny; the other is this club is a national club sponsored by a Local Chapter of the National Organization. There are two phases of competition: long term and short problem. The long term is where each team selects one of five problems ranging from robotics, ecology, future problems, structural engineering, or even vehicle design with problems changing each year. The short problem is where the team gives a solution of a shorter problem and usually has one minute for preparation.

"The team did very good during competitions and learned a great deal," said Ms. Hazzan.

Cosmetology

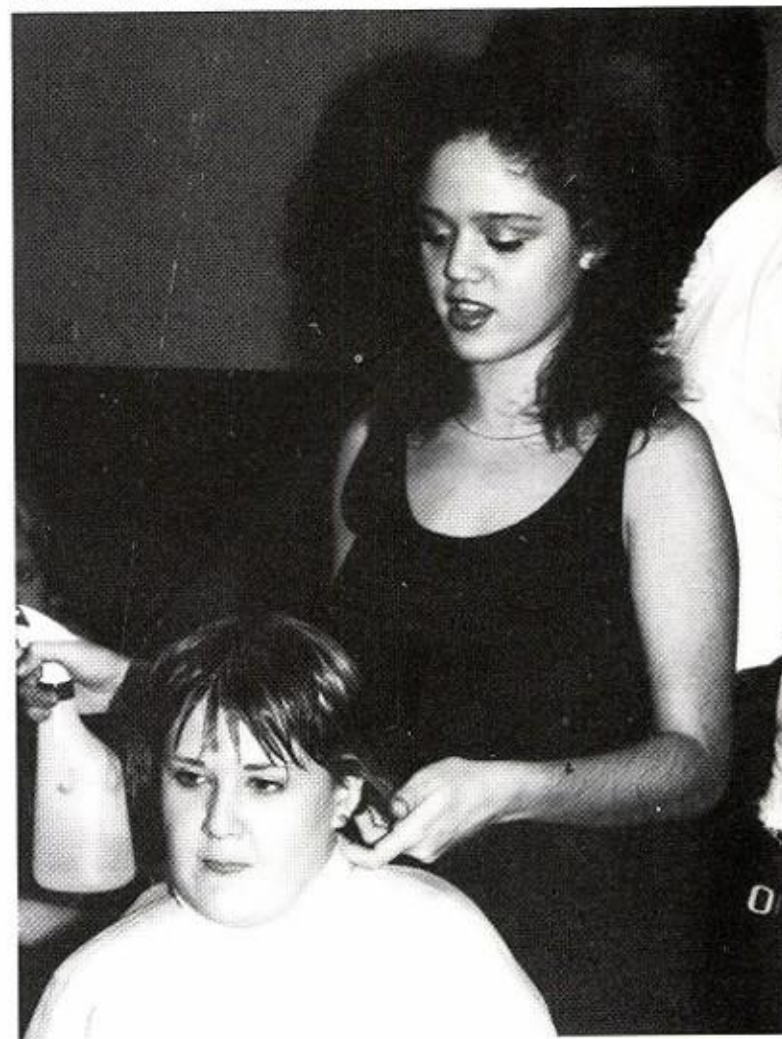

It's More Than Styling, Cutting Hair

"Don't cut too much off." "I want a soft perm but only on top." "My nails are a disaster zone."

Those were just a few of the echoes heard in the Nimitz Cosmetology room. In a few short words, people go into the Cosmetology room and expect miracles. Miracles are then performed, with the knowledge to create new and exciting looks.

President Tracey LaFreniere said, "Cosmetology isn't just styling hair, but the knowledge and practice to achieve the final step, a cosmetologist. It gets frustrating at times but in the end I know it will pay off."

The girls held a fashion show in the Nimitz auditorium in the month of January. The girls worked hard to get ready for the show. At the show, everyone enjoyed themselves and the girls felt the show was a big success.

Water Polo

Experience, Knowledge Gained.

One of the newest clubs organized at Nimitz is the first Water Polo Teams. Water Polo has been given club status and not recognized as a sport because it isn't backed by U.I.L. rules.

Before becoming a member of this new organization one must have knowledge of how to play soccer and most important, be a member of the swim team.

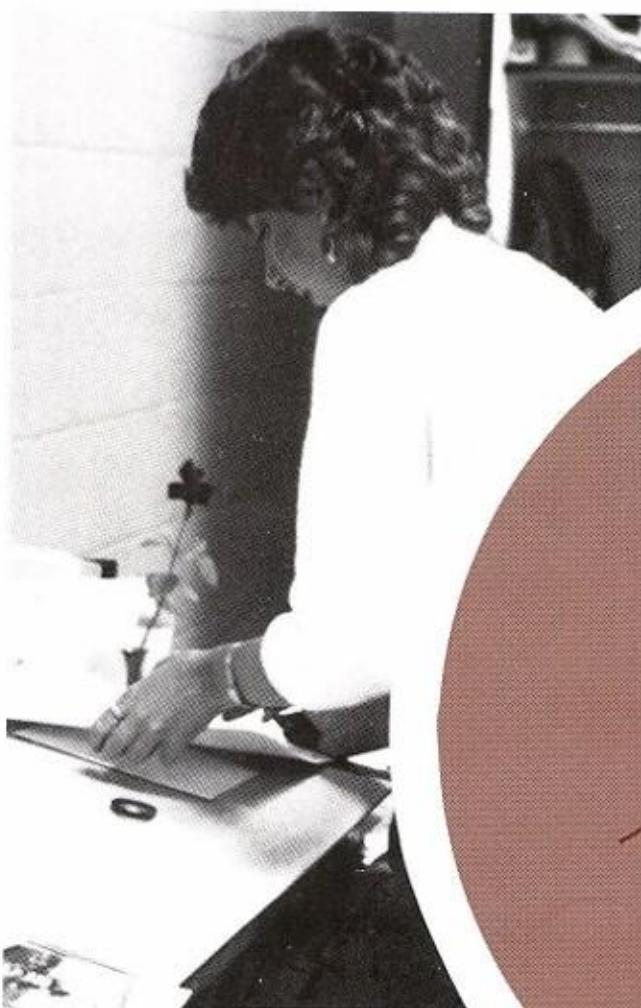

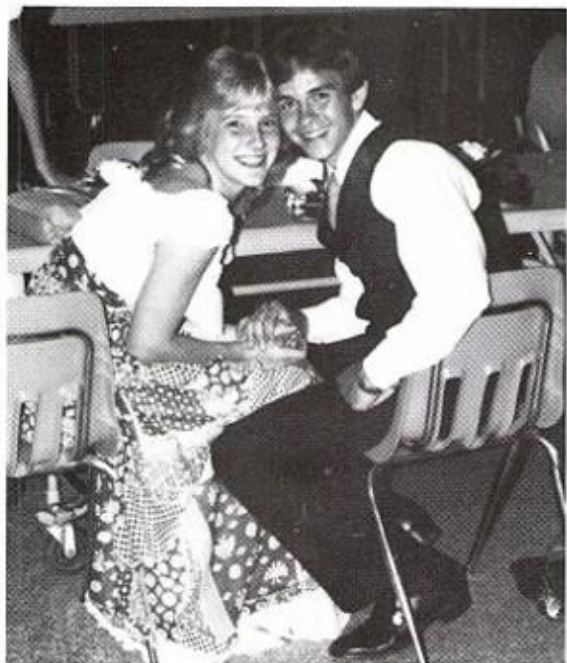

Ms. Mari Kaufman, Head Sponsor, was excited about the enthusiasm from the members. She believes all three of her teams did well considering this was Nimitz's first year.

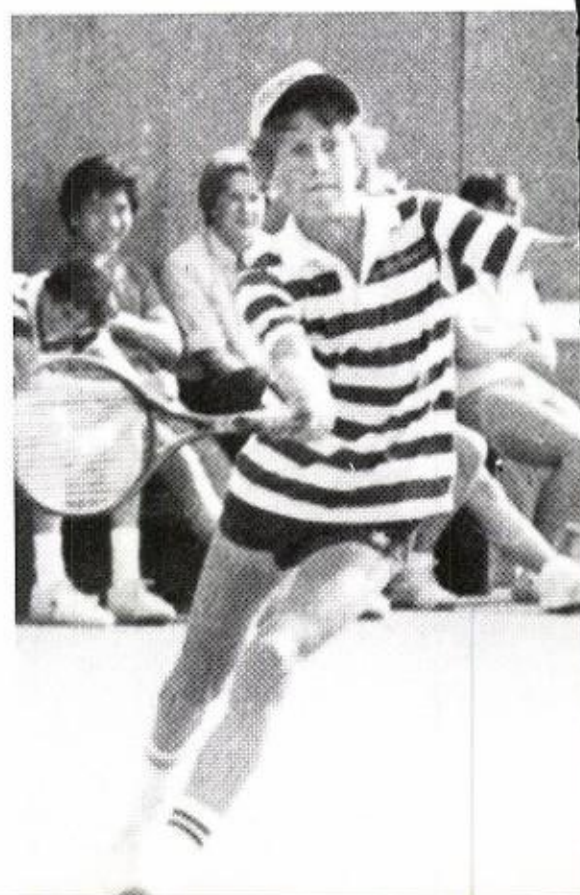

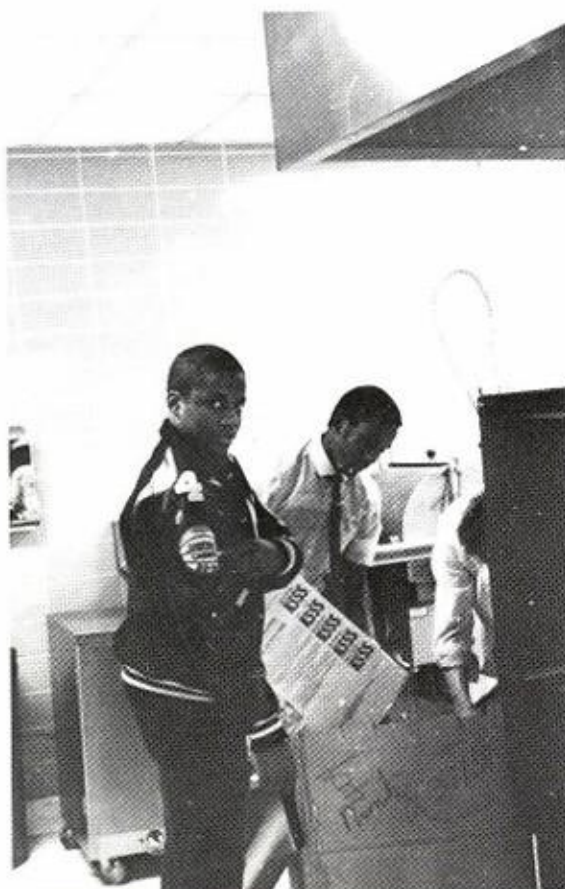

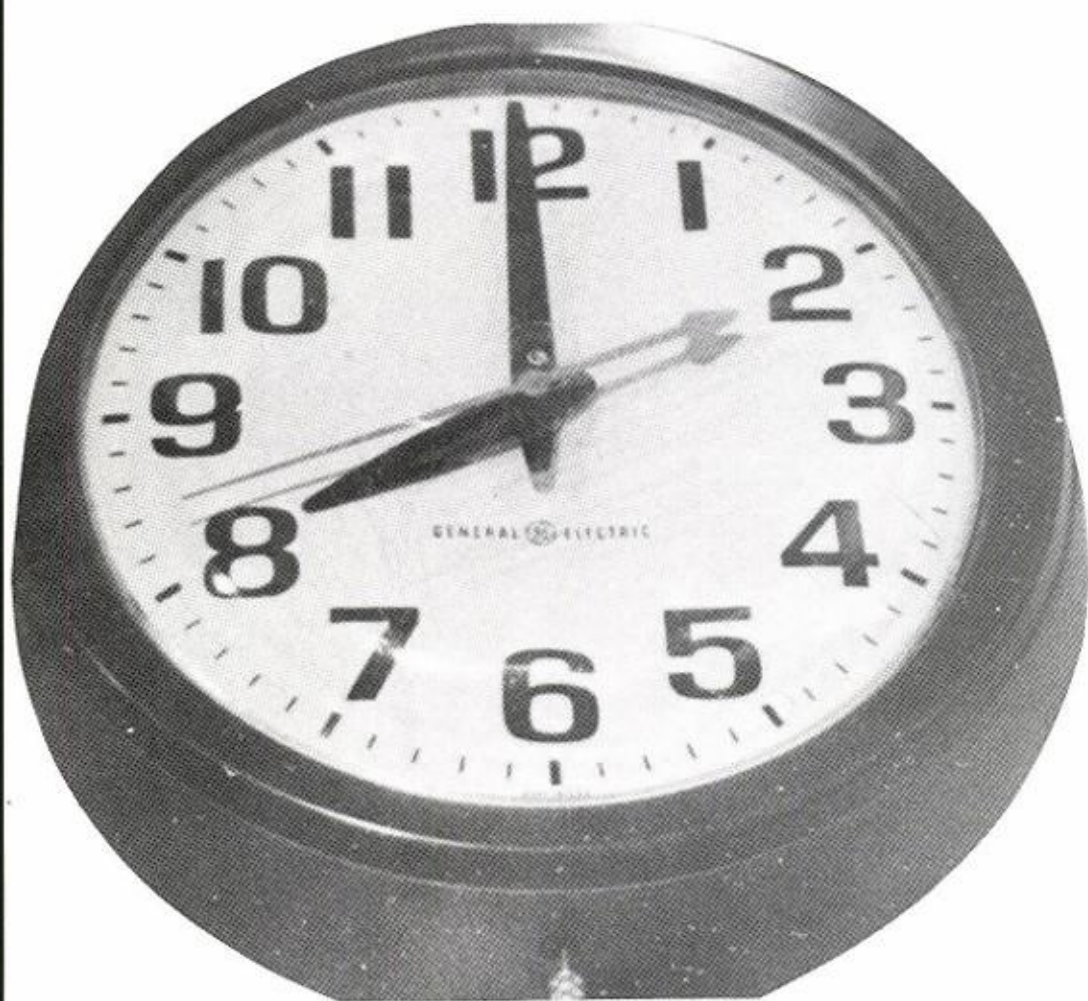

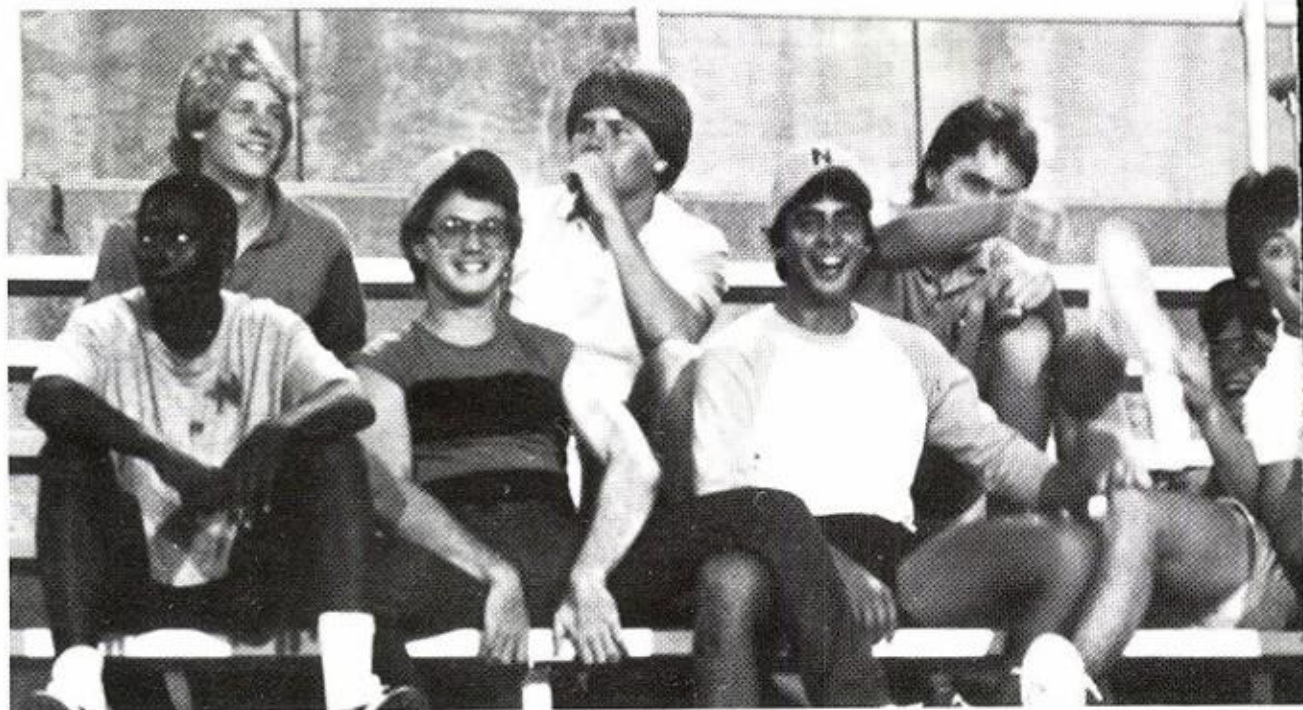

The phrase "up and coming" could easily describe the teams. With all three teams mainly consisting of Sophomores and Juniors, and carrying a large amount of the weight, this was the year to gain a lot of experience. Their record was 1-3.

"Water Polo is a rough and tiring sport," said Varsity Goalie Bryan Shipman.

“ . . . Time is the Only Thing
That Can Never Be Retrieved ”

The 1984-'85 school year came to a close with many memories still fondling in the heart of so many. For some, it was the sensation of making lots of friends — a practice that is instrumental in Cougar Pride. For others, it was the excitement of our extraordinary football team. We remember “Easy Randy Street” announcing at our pep rally that the Coogs were the 79Q Team Of The Week. Our Coogs finished the season with an impressive 7-3 record. The Coogs are on the prow! From now on the Nimitz Cougars will be a force to be reckoned with.

Many of us associate this year as “The Year of the Dances.” In early January, the students were welcomed with a distinctly unfamiliar friend — SNOW! Out of 1650 students, 652 stayed home to play.

Christmas time was also a time for our organizations to give to the needy. The students had a food drive for the poor and gave to Toys for Tots.

The memories will be cherished forever, but we must look toward the future. There is a special message for everyone. To the graduating Seniors of 1984-85, you finally made it, but don't give up; it's really only the beginning. You must set your goals in life now, and then set out to obtain them. Just remember, “If you can't be the moon, be a star; but be the best of whatever you are.” To all returning Cougars, for you, life might be a struggle, but you must persevere. You can still create your future and destiny. However, time is the only thing that can never be retrieved. Remember, people don't plan to fail — they fail to plan. You must stand strong in your convictions, and keep reaching for the stars.

The statement, “The Coogs are on the Prowl,” is not just a theme, it's a way of existing. It's a signal that we are no longer satisfied with being a follower; we want to be the leader! It's a statement about life indicating that we are proud to be from Chester W. Nimitz High School. For, “WE ARE ON THE PROWL!”

Cougars Find The Pot of Gold OVER THE RAINBOW

1. Seniors Jeanette Rameriz and Garmond Joe enter the coronation scene as nominees for Best-Dressed.

Somewhere over the rainbow the class favorites found their pot of gold at the 1985 coronation. Preparation for this colorful event began weeks in advance. The students on the yearbook staff and in woodshop spent many hours making the rainbow that was to hang over the heads of the candidates on that spectacular night. It was a beautiful sight when the rainbow was finally hung in its place on the afternoon of the performance.

The nominees began arriving early in anticipation on the evening of the ceremony. As their names were called, the candidates crossed through the decorated gazebo onto a colorful stage to the applause of a huge crowd. The ladies and gentlemen were beautifully dressed in semi-formal attire. Entertainment, provided by Nimitz choir members and the pop group, added to the excitement in the air. Master and Mistress of Ceremonies Derek Benn and Kim Hopkins announced the nominees to the tune of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" performed by the Nimitz Jazz Band.

Before the crowning of Mr. and Miss Nimitz, the curtain closed and the stage was set for the final number. When it opened, the stage was filled with all nominees ready for the grand finale. Senior choir member Tracy DeDeaux belted out a jazz version of "Over the Rainbow" receiving a standing ovation from the enthusiastic crowd at the finish of the song. This brought the excitement to a peak and now it was time to announce the 1985 Mr. and Miss Nimitz.

The nominees for these title positions were brought out again and their accomplishments were read. The suspense grew as Mrs. Sharon Parramore and Mr. Jack Welch read the winners — Derek Drawhorn and Denise Havard. They brought our trip over the rainbow to a magnificent ending.

Today We Follow; Tomorrow We Lead

We are assembled here this Saturday to leave behind us years of mental torture, sorrow, but most of all — happiness.

We have friends with whom we must part and routines which must be reformed and disciplined. We are to gain experience and to live life to its fullest. We find ourselves asking what will become of us, a single class of people, high school students, in an endless system — a world of reality. Do not despair, we travel a road built with the minds and lives of others before us. Seven years ago, Nimitz was built to educate the future generations; to teach us how to live. In given time we will too dedicate our lives and efforts to develop this world.

Today we exit a picture of our lives. Years from now, the stillness of our portrait's a resemblance will force tears from our eyes. We will remember failing Mr. Brown's class. More importantly, we will recall joyous occasions. In ten years, we will remember our high school period, when we learned so much about people. We may have acquired knowledge of Mathematics, Biology, English, Physics, History — these are for our minds. No doubt, years from now, we may forget much of our technical knowledge. However, we have learned friendship, trust, camaraderie — these are for ourselves, and they will never escape us.

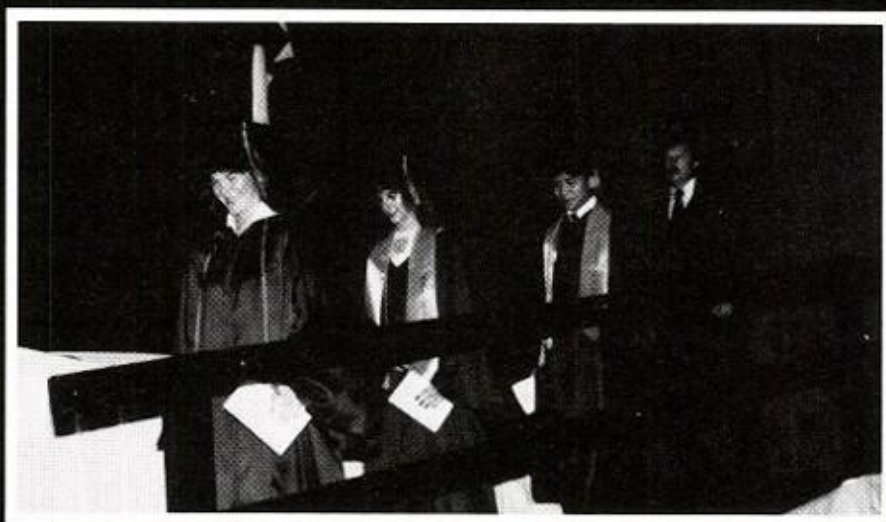

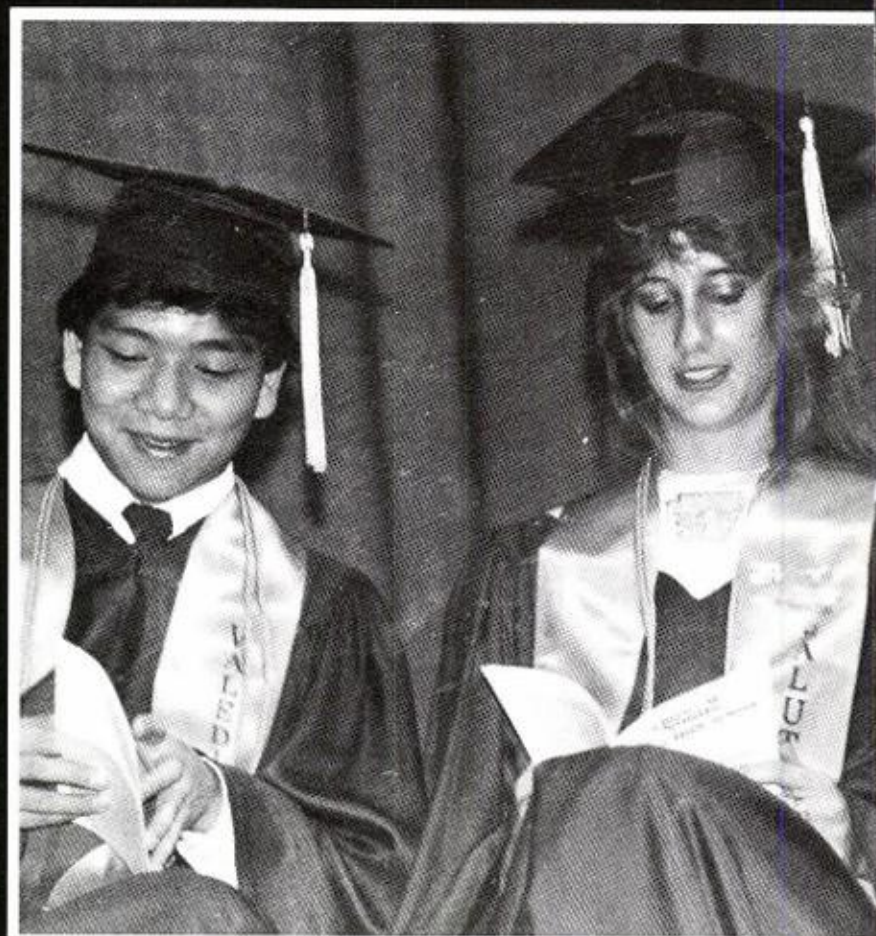

Today, we leave our dearest friends — the people who so kindly aided us in distressful moments. Recall the confusion, frustration, you have felt over relationships or school. You have always had a friend to depend on. And now is a time of sacrifice, we must leave behind us an entire period of our lives and the people we have known for most of our childhood. Those of you have not felt these frustrations and questioned your identity, do not feel inadequate; it is you that will have a mid-life crisis.

We shall not depart from Nimitz Senior High School without leaving an impression upon those to graduate in years ahead. Each future class will be a legacy to the last. Each of us, each person to walk through the halls of our school will encompass our thoughts. We are united one last time as one conscience. As a group, I plead that you remember this moment; it is perhaps the greatest change in our lives.

Today, we are deaf to our souls' cries of loneliness and despair. And we are blind to the faces we will most likely not see again. Empathize with me, and feel each other's thoughts. Today is the most solitary day of our lives. For we feel nervousness: we have no certainty, no guarantee of the future.

Stand firmly and proudly — we, the class of 1985, have just begun. Foresight warns us of distress, but we hold our destiny in our palms. Let us smile and have jovial spirit for the culmination of this day, this picture in time.

The sophistication of the Raphael Ballroom in the Wyndham Hotel had an added touch of class on the evening of Friday, May 3, 1985. Its added magnificence was the 1985 Nimitz Senior Prom. This year's Seniors furthered the Wyndham Hotel's elegance with their chosen theme, A Touch of Class.

The gala event, which surpassed almost everyone's expectations, resulted from four years of hard work from many dedicated Seniors. Fundraisers, class meetings and helpful sponsors made the prom everything that it had been dreamed and more. At their weekly meetings, Seniors chose their class song, colors, motto and theme that were all a part of the prom.

Before arriving at the Wyndham Hotel in their rented limos or Lincolns, many Seniors went to dinner in downtown Houston. The ladies, dressed in their stylish evening gowns, and the gentlemen in their tuxes, dined at exquisite restaurants such as Vargo's and the Carlisle prior to making their appearances at the prom. Snapshots recorded the memory of the wonderful event that was so anxiously anticipated. Then it was off to the Wyndham.

The prom was the Seniors' dreams come true. Attendants greeted the Seniors and held the door open to the extravagant hotel so they could make their grand entrances. The Raphael Ballroom had been transformed by elaborate decorations done in the class colors of black and silver. One wall sported an ornate buffet that was decorated by two ice sculptures. Seniors danced to the pop music played by disc jockey Mike Jax. Everything was perfectly done for a memorable evening.

At a few minutes after midnight, the dance floor was cleared and the candidates for Prom King and Queen were brought to the bandstand. Then the winners were announced and the Prom King and Queen, Frank Martinucci and Cheryl Leach, enjoyed a solo dance together in front of the Seniors.

All too soon the clock struck one a.m. and the 1985 Nimitz Senior Prom was over. Along with the table decorations and souvenirs, the class of 1985 took many beautiful memories with them from the Wyndham Hotel. May 3, 1985 was truly a night with a touch of class.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

An Editor's Note . . .

Another year has come to an end, but the memories remain. Within these pages, we have tried to capture moments, good and bad, that we hope you will remember in the years to come.

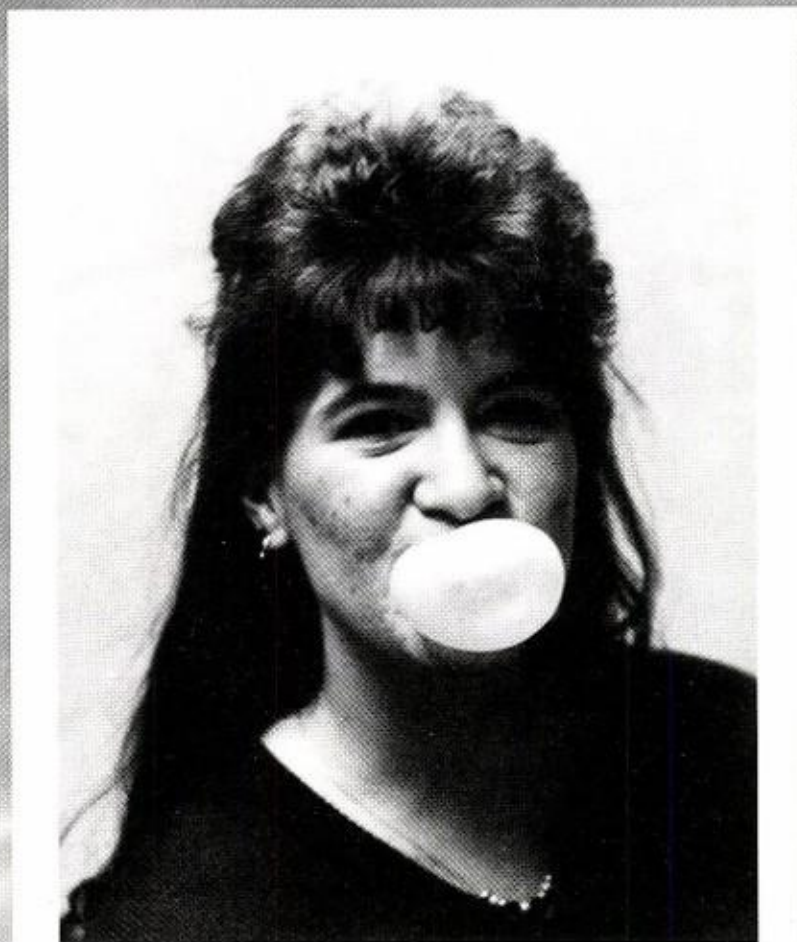

Putting this book together was not an easy task, and it's hard to believe that we succeeded. Much of the recognition goes to Dana Carpenter, assistant editor, for her kindness and her friendship, but most of all, her patience with me.

When I was given the title as editor, I took on many responsibilities. Some were very hard to accomplish, but in the end they were all worthwhile. Our staff faced problems from the very start. Not only with financial difficulties, but personal problems between the staff too. Working together was harder than usual, but we accomplished our goal.

I would like to thank one special person who has made my days go by so much faster in the staff room, Mr. Gary Clem. He was there to help with many arising problems and made them seem so easy to overcome. As for Darren, head photographer, the darkroom would not have been complete without you. Your smiles and your hugs made it much easier for me. I'll miss you next year and I wish you the best of luck in the future. To the remaining Senior photographers, Derek, Kim, Robert, and Robby, what would I have done without you guys? I know towards the end that you all got tired of hearing, "Where's my pictures?!" I'll remember you always.

To all of those returning next year, your talent was very helpful and I'm looking forward to 1986.

There is one more person that I would like to acknowledge, Mr.

Jack Welch. Although I will be returning next year, I don't know what I would have done without your "little talks." High School would not be complete without you.

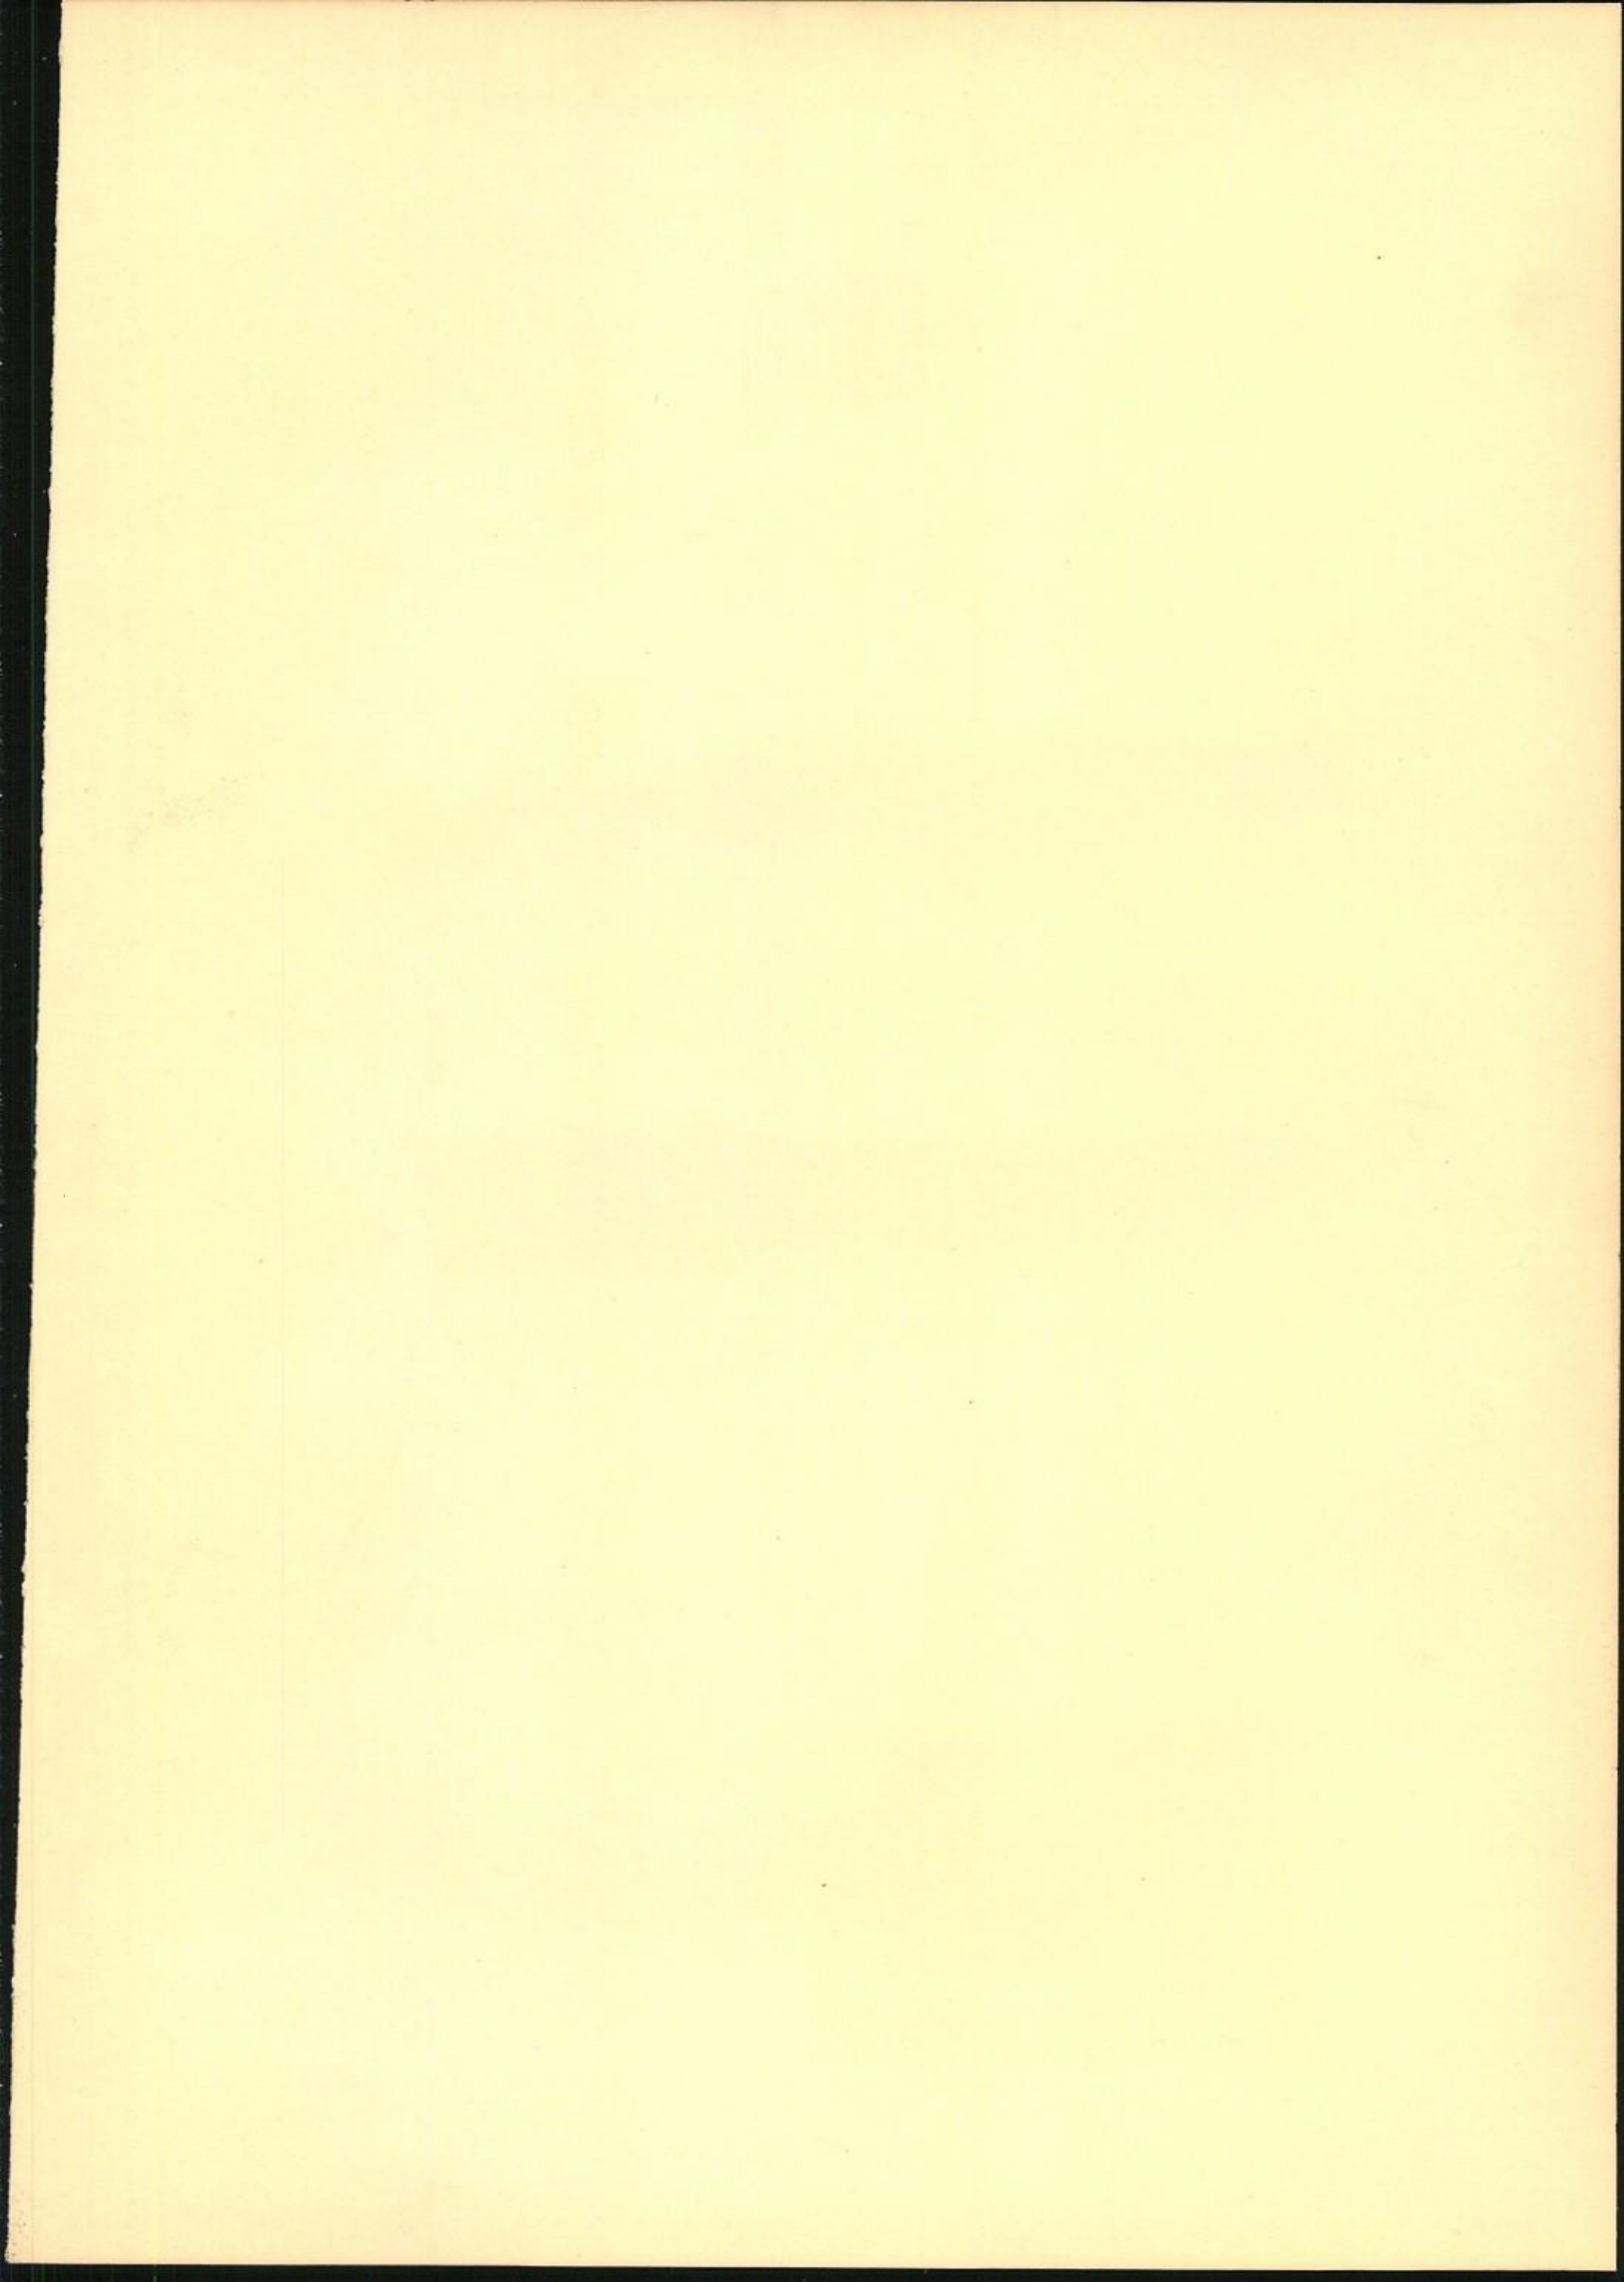

Finally, to the graduating class of 1985, GOOD LUCK, and may God be with you for the rest of your lives.

Craig.
You're the best friend a guy could ever have, you've always been there when I needed you, and thanks for that.
I hope life treats you well, and you get what you want. I'm sure you will. We're stivers, troopers, were party animals. May there be many more beaches like before (the first time you ever got me bombed) and let nothing ever come between our friendship
P.S. stop fooling around and ~~the~~ settle down
Love & Cheers
